

GM Is Seen As Pattern For Boosts

Chrysler, Ford Concerns May Be Asked to Give Same Salary Terms Gained Friday

Detroit, May 23 (AP)—The CIO United Auto Workers turned the heat on the remainder of the auto industry's big three today to gain the same wage concessions it got from General Motors Corp. yesterday.

Walter P. Reuther, president of the CIO and the UAW, already had said Chrysler and Ford would be asked to alter their five-year wage contracts if General Motors did. GM historically has been the contract pattern-setter.

After GM agreed to alter its contract—which it legally could have refused to do until mid-1955—Reuther remarked: "I hope other companies will catch on to the idea real quick."

The concessions granted by GM raised the average wage of GM's 350,000 employees across the country to $2.05 hourly.

Around 700,000 other UAW members are employed by other auto makers and major suppliers.

Agreements Announced

Shortly after the GM-UAW agreement was announced, James E. Carey, president of the CIO Electric Workers, announced GM had given 40,000 members of his union similar concessions.

Under the contract, General Motors agreed:

1. To make permanent 19 of the 21 cents hourly to its hourly employees that have been gained through increases because of the cost-of-living escalator clause in their contract.

2. To raise from four to five cents annually the hourly increase granted under the contract's "annual improvement factor." (This is designed to compensate for cheaper technological ways of doing things—labor-saving devices.)

3. To raise 40,000 skilled employees a flat 10 cents an hour June 1 in recognition of the industry's "annual improvement factor." (This is designed to compensate for cheaper technological ways of doing things—labor-saving devices.)
4. To accept a new cost-of-living formula by which wages are hiked to the government's new index of the cost of living.

Flash of Lightning Blamed for Accident

A flash of lightning was blamed for an accident on Route 9W a mile north of Marlborough on 10:40 p. m. Friday in which one man was injured.

James Wimberly, 33, of 34 Smith street, Newburgh, was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh after the automobile he was driving went through guard rails and down an embankment. His condition was reported as "fairly good" at the hospital this morning.

Wimberly told troopers he lost control of the vehicle when he was blinded by a flash of lightning while negotiating a curve.

Arm Is Fractured In Two-Car Crash

Mrs. Barbara J. Olsen of Ballston Spa received a fractured left arm in a two-car collision at the intersection of Routes 212 and 32 near Saugerties at 9:10 p. m. Friday, state police reported.

Troopers said the automobile driven by Mrs. Olsen's husband, Norman, 28, was in collision with one driven by Clair Becker, 53, of Milford, Conn. The left front fenders of the vehicles made contact as they were approaching the intersection from opposite directions, according to the report. No arrest was made.

Physicist Jailed For Lying About Knowing Spy Team

New York, May 23 (AP)—A gifted young physicist today was in jail to await sentence for lying about his acquaintance with two members of the Rosenberg atom spy team.

William Perl, 34, former Columbia University physics instructor and wartime government aerodynamics expert, was convicted yesterday on two perjury counts. The federal grand jury recommended clemency for the young scientist, described by his lawyer as "a sort of young Einstein."

He could get up to 10 years in prison and $4,000 in fines for falsely denying that he knew Julius Rosenberg, condemned for conspiring to give atom secrets to Russia and Morton Sobell, serving 30 years in prison in the same case.

Federal Judge Sylvester J. Ryan revoked Perl's bond, and sent him to jail to await sentencing June 5.

Joy After Tideland's Signing

President Eisenhower wears a wide smile as he shakes hands with Sen. Spessard Holland (D-Fla.), leader of the Congressional fight for passage of the tideland bill, after signing the measure into law at the White House, May 22. Applauding are Rep. Leslie Arends (R-Ill.) and Rep. Craig Hosmer (R-Cal.), center.

Mundt Would Lift Secrecy of Ships

To Demand British Craft Be Revealed Which Carried Reds

Washington, May 23 (AP)—Sen. Mundt (R-S.D.) said today he will demand that the Eisenhower administration take off the "blindness" on ourselves and reveal the names of British ships alleged to have transported Chinese Communist troops.

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) promptly announced he will back Mundt's move to demand cancellation of an order making the ship names an official secret.

Both are members of the Senate Investigations subcommittee which heard testimony Wednesday that two or more British-owned ships were used as troop transports along the China coast and may still be so used.

No Demand Sent

The subcommittee, which has announced sending a demand to Eisenhower that he state publicly what he thinks of this, said last night such a demand was never sent and may never be.

Francis D. Flanagan, subcommittee chief counsel, confirmed reports that the letter had been withheld on orders from Chairman McCarthy (R-Wis.).

In testimony Wednesday, the Wheelock Marden Co. of Hong Kong was mentioned as operator of at least one ship which allegedly carried Red China troops. The company has denied the charge and the British government has called for a transcript of the testimony.

Will Raze Theatre

New York, May 23 (AP)—The Empire Theatre, New York's oldest playhouse, will be given a farewell salute tomorrow night in a stage tribute by 56 leading performers. The artists—including Cornelia Otis Skinner, Shirley Booth, Brandon De Wilde, Ethel Waters, Dennis King, Ilka Chase and Thomas Mitchell—will present scenes from plays that were done at the Empire over the past 60 years. A new skyscraper is planned on the site of the Empire, just across Broadway from the Metropolitan Opera House. The theatre will be razed this summer.

Eight Drowned; 100 Million Dollars Loss in Louisiana

Lake Charles, La., May 23 (AP)—A sleepless weatherman warned today the crest-swollen Calcasieu river would keep pouring flood waters another four or five days through this city and eastern outskirt where 15,000 persons fled partly-drowned homes.

The flood-crippled area, with hundreds of homes in backwater up to window level, counted damage at more than 100 million dollars.

Week-long floods throughout Louisiana caused a loss estimated at more than 100 million dollars and caused at least eight drownings. No casualties were reported here but residents were advised to get typhoid shots.

While the creeping paralysis of backwaters ripped through one-third of this southern Louisiana city, the waters spilling into low-lying neighborhoods appeared to be leveling off, but not falling.

A decision was expected on whether to relieve conditions by dynamiting holes in the east-west Highway 90. The road, built on an embankment in swampland, dams the south-bound flood waters.

Orange, Tex., an industrial city of 10,000 some 35 miles southwest of here on Highway 90, was threatened by the rising waters of the Sabine river which divides the two states.

Weatherman Paul Cook said, "Lake Charles will have to sit here four or five more days with this flood at or near its peak."

He said an immense amount of southward flowing water was still piled up in miles of swamplands north of the city.

The waters crested at 9.76 feet 5.76 feet above flood stage—at the Lake Charles docks here. They were moving slowly almost with in river banks through the city and pushing out into wild marshlands to the south.

A one-mile wide belt of the city and business district bordering the river were safe on high ground.

After Cook predicted the Sabine crest at Orange would be only eight and one-half to nine feet, flood fighters there said they were "very hopeful that the battle against the river will be won." Meanwhile, the river had already gone into some 200 homes.

Mass Concert Is Scheduled Tonight

A male chorus of 450 voices representing the Mohawk-Hudson Male Chorus Association, will present a Mass Concert at 8:30 o'clock tonight in municipal auditorium, under the sponsorship of the Mendelssohn Club. It will be one of the most spectacular musical events yet held in this city. Miss Nancy Carr, a lyric soprano, star of radio, TV, and the concert stage, will be the guest soloist. The public is invited to attend.

Truce Seen Near If Reds Really Want Armistice

Sen. Sparkman Believes Negotiations Reach 'Breaking Point' in Korea

Washington, May 23 (AP)—Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala.) said today that negotiators are "very near" a truce in Korea—if the Communists actually want an armistice.

Sparkman, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Far Eastern subcommittee and a former United Nations delegate, said in an interview he believes negotiations have reached the "breaking point" in Korea.

"If the Communists want a truce, we are very near to it and we can get it," the Alabama senator declared. "Of course, no one really knows whether the Communists really want an armistice or whether they are just stalling again."

He said he feels, however, that if the newest allied offer now being whipped into final form is rejected by the Reds, the negotiations will be broken off quickly by the UN representatives—and he doesn't know what would happen next.

As the negotiations stand, there is only one issue at stake—the fate of 48,000 Communist prisoners who have said they don't want to go back under Red domination. The Communists have suggested giving custody of these prisoners to a five nation commission made up of Switzerland, Sweden, India, Poland and Czechoslovakia, but there has been disagreement over vital details of this proposal.

No Details to Offer

Neither Sparkman nor any of the other senators and House members who attended a lengthy conference at the State Department yesterday on the truce situation would reveal any details of the proposed UN counter offer.

Several of those who attended the State Department briefing, led by acting secretary Walter Bedell Smith, said they were not made aware of any major change in U. S. policy on the prisoner issue.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Ia.) said the session left him "neither more optimistic nor more pessimistic" about truce chances.

Outside Congress, the Rev. Dr. Daniel A. Poling, prominent Philadelphia Baptist minister, declared that "the time is ripe for a second Munich."

The Munich conference, an ill-fated attempt to placate Hitler, helped Germany absorb Czechoslovakia and improve her own position for launching World War 2.

Dr. Poling, in a speech before the All-American Conference to Combat Communism, lit into the British and Prime Minister Churchill.

Dr. Poling said Churchill (Continued on Page 5, Col. 7)

Churchill Is Seen Asking for Early Big Four Meeting

Prime Minister Hopes Talks In Bermuda Will Pave Way for Parley With Malenkov

London, May 23 (AP)—British sources expect Prime Minister Churchill to propose an early "Big Four" parley with Russia when the British leader meets with President Eisenhower and France's premier in Bermuda next month.

London newspapers are taking it for granted that this will be one of the principal topics of discussion at the gathering of the three western leaders.

Churchill already has called for a high-level east-west conference to settle outstanding world issues and has indicated that he hopes the Bermuda talks will pave the way for a meeting with Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov.

Wants Evidence

President Eisenhower has expressed willingness to meet the Soviets half way in an attempt to settle world differences but has said he would first like to see some evidence of Soviet good intentions.

In announcing the Bermuda conference, Churchill told the House of Commons "it is my hope that we may take a definite step forward of far greater import."

Churchill also made it plain that he favored holding the "Big Four" talks as soon as possible. British diplomatic quarters explained this means during this summer.

Uptown Businessmen Would Limit the Loading Areas

Show Cause Order Due in Court on Diverting Water

One-Way Traffic Plan for Streets in Business Section Is Again Discussed

A show cause order will be argued before Justice William Deckelman in Supreme Court, Kingston, Monday morning over the bid of certain property owners to restrain the village of Saugerties from diverting the waters of Plattekill Creek.

The show cause order takes the form of requiring the village to explain why a temporary restraining injunction should not be granted. The plaintiffs are seeking one of three alternatives, (1) that the village be restrained from diverting the waters of the Plattekill, (2) that the village be forced to guarantee a flow of water over the dam or, (3) that a commission be established to award damages to landowners.

Plaintiffs Listed

The law firm of Rosenblum and Lamb will represent the plaintiffs and Attorney Louis Francello will appear for the village of Saugerties.

Plaintiffs are John Lowther, Archie J. VanBenschoten, Earl E. Larsen, B. E. Larsen, Anna Fusick, Nicholas Brown, Tessie Brown, Mercedes de Mare, Robert del Peso, Elizabeth del Peso, Edna L. Weigelt, Dorothy W. Haussler, Harry Frelich, Anthony Giannone, Catherine M. Giannone, Maude Keller, Gifford L. Bishop, Margaret Bishop, William Tompkins, Jr., Marjorie R. Tompkins, Arthur Falk, Fannie E. Falk, Thomas Vlachavice, Hattie E. Vlachavice, Charles E. Maxwell, Dorothy A. Maxwell, Michael Stiso, Helen Stiso, Jennie Yanneli, Johanne Andersen, Joseph Pleghaar, Louise Pleghaar, Pine Grove Camp, Inc., and James Poulakis.

Defendants are Mayor George Holmes, Charles E. Maxwell, Dorothy A. Maxwell, Michael Stiso, Helen Stiso, Jennie Yanneli, Johanne Andersen, Joseph Pleghaar, Louise Pleghaar, Pine Grove Camp, Inc., and James Poulakis.

Will Make Further Study

No action was taken on the proposal, but it was announced that a committee will be appointed to make a further study.

Vincent Burns, manager of the local Montgomery Ward store, reported that his firm intends to spend "considerable money" to repair its present parking lot and facilities.

Following Burns' report, the board voted to advertise for bids on the construction of a stairway leading from the association's lot, which joins the Eight ROK North Front street, to the street.

It was also voted to request the city to provide a policeman at (Continued on Page 5, Col. 8)

Jets Bag MIG, Damage One In First Clash Since Monday

Seoul, May 23 (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets destroyed one Communist MIG and damaged another today as allied and Red pilots tangled high over North Korea for the first time since Monday.

Tough South Korean infantrymen killed or wounded more than 300 Chinese Reds in small-scale but savage hand-to-hand fighting along the rain-soaked battlefield.

Scores of allied fighters and bombers streaked over North Korea as skies cleared after two days of wind and rain.

Today's MIG kill was credited to Maj. Vermont Garrison of Mt. Victory, Ky., who scored with two bursts of gunfire in a brief aerial duel 40,000 feet over Suino Dam just south of the Manchurian border, the air force said.

In eastern Korea South Korean infantrymen charged five times against dug-in Chinese who late Friday seized one end of Outpost Victory. But at nightfall, after 24 hours of bitter close quarter fighting, the 150 to 200 Chinese still held the western end of the ridge, the Eighth Army said.

The Reds grabbed part of the elongated outpost two days ago but were thrown off the same day.

South Koreans used bayonets and knives to hurl back Chinese who hit five other outposts along the 155-mile front, the army said.

Infantrymen of the Eighth ROK Division also beat back 300 to 350 Chinese who attacked an outpost on Capitol Hill and another 150 to 200 Reds who hit a UN position in the same western front sector.

In the air, allied fighter-bombers hit Communist troops in the Christmas Hill area and elsewhere along the front.

American Sabre jets scoured MIG Alley and damaged one Red jet in the first dogfight reported in several days.

Returning fighter-bomber pilots said they dropped bombs on five bridges, cutting important rail and road routes in western Korea.

Other warplanes bombed and strafed Red frontline positions, destroying 42 personnel and supply shelters and damaging at least 66 bunkers and 39 gun positions, the air force said.

No Changes Due Despite Big Slashes

Western Democrat Calls for Resignation of Defense Chief; Would Summon Generals

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

Washington, May 23 (AP)—A House Appropriations Committee member today predicted tentative approval without change of the trimmed-down military budget, despite outcries against slashes in air force funds.

The prediction, from Rep. Ford (R-Mich.), came on the heels of demands that Secretary of Defense Wilson resign and that generals who have led the air force appear for committee questioning.

Ford said he was sure there would be no change and certainly no increases when a subcommittee now considering the air force budget sends it on to a higher subcommittee studying the whole $36,100,000,000 military budget.

A check of the three members of the smaller subcommittee showed them evenly divided on whether, as maintained in an air force report, the proposed cutbacks would reduce air power below the "absolute minimum" for national security.

Trusts Ike's Judgment

Chairman Scriner (R-Kan.) generally supported the proposed reductions. Rep. Mahon (D-Tex.) said he "deplored" them and Rep. Hruska (R-Neb.) said he had not yet reached a decision although he "trusted President Eisenhower's military judgment."

This group, however, is only the first rung on the ladder. Action would follow in the military subcommittee, the full Appropriations Committee and the House itself. Senate action is comparable.

A member of the Senate Appropriations Committee, Sen. Maybank (D-S.C.) asked that Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, air force chief, and Gen. Carl Spaatz, retired former head, be called for testimony.

Maybank is among a number of congressmen who are publicly questioning plans to cut more than five billion dollars from air force funds and lower the air force goal from 143 wings by mid 1955 to 120 wings.

Rep. Yorty (D-Calif.), a World War 2 air force intelligence officer, said Wilson should quit as defense chief, adding in a statement:

"The dollars and shrugs will not shoot down attacking planes."

Charges Waste

Rep. Steed (D-Okl.), an air power enthusiast, said millions of dollars had been wasted on the army's atomic cannon. He said the money could much better be spent on additional aircraft to deliver atomic bombs.

Yorty earlier had put in the Congressional Record what he called an air force reply to Wilson's budget and spending cutbacks.

An air force spokesman said it was prepared at Yorty's request in the office of Maj. Gen. Robert E. L. Elton, director of legislative liaison.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich.) of the Senate Appropriations sub-

5-Year-Old Girl Is Struck by Car; Rests Comfortably

Christine Badalamenti, 5, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Badalamenti of 77 Clinton avenue, suffered bruises about the face and body about 4:30 p. m. yesterday when she was struck by a car near the intersection of Franklin street and Clinton avenue, police reported.

She was treated by a private physician and taken to Kingston Hospital for X-rays. Mrs. Badalamenti said this morning that Christine was resting comfortably.

The little girl received cuts and bruises of both legs and arms, jaw and the inside of her mouth, Mrs. Badalamenti reported.

K. William Kleine, 22, of P.O. Box 178, Hurley, reported to police that he was operating his car east on Franklin street and was slowing for a red light when the Badalamenti girl ran from behind a pickup truck into the path of his vehicle. He said the front bumper struck and knocked her down but that she picked herself up immediately.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

EXCITING NEWS

The other day the postman casually dropped an innocuous looking card into my mailbox which, when I read it, sent me off into a tangle of hilarious rejoicing. I maneuvered around the house like a crazy man until the members of my household thought I had gone plumb "nuts." (God only knows what the neighbors thought. They were kind enough to keep their thoughts to themselves.) Finally I came down to earth to explain what the excitement was all about.

The piece of thin cardboard which caused all of that turmoil in our family was the plain gray form card, printed up, I would suppose, by the thousands. It was captioned: "Report of Chest Examination," and simply stated, "The X-Ray of your chest taken by the New York State Department of Health shows no evidence of disease of the lungs."

Now the reason why I danced around the house "like a chicken with his head cut off" was not because I had entertained any worries about what the X-Ray would show. The real facts are that from the time the X-Ray was taken until the moment the postman dropped the ordinary card in my box the matter had not crossed my mind. I thought all along that my lungs were disease-free. But is that any reason why such news ought to be reduced to the stature of the ordinary?

Why do we have to wait until a doctor comes along and rips the roof off before we appreciate the blessings of good shelter? Isn't it legitimate to dance for joy over the mercy of a good roof over our heads while it is still intact? There is that old saying about never missing the water until the well runs dry. But I'm for shaking ourselves awake to the great mercy of an abundant water supply while we wait (or the reservoir) is full of that precious daily necessity.

Good health ought always to be exciting news. The trouble too often with us is that we don't realize what a blessing health is until we lose it. Then we long for that precious commodity which we took so much for granted when we had it in a blinding abundance.

I'm for being grateful while we still have the blessing. It is no wonder, then, that the plain gray form card from the New York State Department of Health sent me off into a tangle of excitement. If you also were fortunate enough to get a card that confirmed your health, what effect did yours have upon you?

To Speak Sunday From England for Wesley Ceremony

The annual business and corporate meeting of the First Baptist Church was held Thursday night at which time all officers were reelected.

Norman Swibold, chairman of the board of deacons, presided in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Donald E. Brown, who is in attendance at the annual American Baptist Convention at Denver, Colo.

Officers reelected were Charles L. Arnold, clerk; Emory Crawford, Leslie Garrison and Sherwood Davis, deacons; Mrs. Cyrus T. Carle, Miss Lucy Healy and Mrs. Ira Woolsey, deaconesses; Arthur H. Brown, Raymond Whitbeck, reelected as trustees while Harry Hulsig was elected to the board to fill a vacancy; Mrs. Harry Klothe, treasurer of benevolence; Miss Ethel Hull, Sunday school superintendent; George B. Matthews, representative to the Rip Van Winkle Council, Boy Scouts of America and Irwin J. Thomas, financial secretary.

Serving on the nominating committee were James H. Betts, chairman; the Rev. Justin Field, Mr. Grover Lasher and Mrs. Harry Terwilliger.

It was announced that a meeting of the advisory board will be held Tuesday, June 2, at 8 p. m. at the church.

The broadcast will originate in the New Room Chapel, oldest Methodist shrine, built by the small contributions of Bristol miners in response to Wesley's first preaching in the open fields following his famous "heart-warming experience" at Aldersgate street, London, May 24, 1738.

The day is now celebrated by Methodists in America as Aldersgate Day, and in England as Wesley Day. By coincidence Whitsunday, or Pentecost, also falls on May 24 this year.

Dr. Eric W. Baker, one of English Methodist's most outstanding leaders and secretary of the Methodist Conference of Britain, will speak at the Bristol ceremony. A special transcription made by BBC in advance has been made available to the local station by the Radio and Film Commission of the Methodist Church, which is sponsoring the broadcasts in this country.

Methodists will observe the 250th anniversary of Wesley's birth June 28 at a world convocation on evangelism in Philadelphia, to be attended by more than 5,000 delegates. Representatives of the British church will be among the program principals.

Your Life and Mine

by CLYDE HERBERT SNELL

EXCITING NEWS The other day the postman casually dropped an innocuous looking card into my mailbox which, when I read it, sent me off into a tangle of hilarious rejoicing. I maneuvered around the house like a crazy man until the members of my household thought I had gone plumb "nuts." (God only knows what the neighbors thought. They were kind enough to keep their thoughts to themselves.) Finally I came down to earth to explain what the excitement was all about.

The piece of thin cardboard which caused all of that turmoil in our family was the plain gray form card, printed up, I would suppose, by the thousands. It was captioned: "Report of Chest X-Ray Examination," and simply stated: "The X-Ray of your chest taken by the New York State Department of Health shows no evidence of disease of the lungs."

Now the reason why I danced around the house "like a chicken with his head cut off" was not because I had entertained any worries about what the X-Ray would show. The real facts are that was taken until the moment the postman dropped the ordinary card in my box the matter had not crossed my mind. I thought along the lines of "disease of the lungs." But is that the reason why such news ought to be reduced to the stature of the ordinary?

Why do we have to wait until a cyclone comes along and rips the roof off before we appreciate the blessings of good abundance? Isn't it legitimate to dance for joy over the mercy of a good roof over our heads while it is still intact? There is that old saying about never missing the water until the well runs dry. But I'm for shaking ourselves awake to the fact that the abundance of water supply while the well (or the reservoir) is full of that precious daily necessity.

Good health ought always to be exciting news. The trouble too often with us is that we don't realize what a blessing health is until we lose it. In the long run, that precious commodity which we took so much for granted when we had it in a blinding abundance.

I'm for being grateful while we still have the blessing. It is no wonder, then, that the plain gray form card from the New York State Department of Health sent me off into a tailspin of excitement. If you also were fortunate enough to get a card that confirmed your health, what effect did yours have upon you?

To Speak Sunday From England for Wesley Ceremony

DR. ERIC W. BAKER

A special world-wide broadcast from Bristol, England, Sunday, May 24 from 7 to 7:30 p. m., will be carried over WKNY to begin the celebration of the 250th anniversary of the birth of John Wesley, founder of Methodism.

The broadcast will originate in the New Room Chapel, oldest Methodist shrine, built by the small contributions of Bristol miners in response to Wesley's first preaching in the open fields following his famous "heart-warming experience" at Aldersgate street, London, May 24, 1738.

The day is now celebrated by Methodists in America as Aldersgate Day, and in England as Wesley Day. By coincidence Whitsunday, or Pentecost, also falls on May 24 this year.

Dr. Eric W. Baker, one of English Methodism's most outstanding leaders and secretary of the Methodist Conference of Britain, will speak at the Bristol ceremony. A special transcription made by BBC in advance has been made available to the local station by the Radio and Film Commission of The Methodist Church, which is sponsoring the broadcasts in this country.

Methodists will observe the 250th anniversary of Wesley's birth June 28 at a world convocation on evangelism in Philadelphia, to be attended by more than 5,000 delegates. Representatives of the British church will be among the program principals.

Home Bible League Representative to Talk Here Sunday

REV. EDWARD T. BURTON

The Rev. Edward T. Burton of Nyack, representative of the American Home Bible League, will be the speaker at the morning and evening services Sunday at the Alliance Gospel Church, corner of Franklin and Pine streets.

He has enjoyed a successful ministry as pastor of the Christian and Missionary Alliance Church of Washington, N. Y., before entering the present ministry as evangelist and representative of the AHBLe. At the morning service at 11 o'clock, he will preach on the subject, Our Christian Vocation. He will speak at the gospel service at 7:30 p. m. on the subject God's New Testament Program of Evangelism. Special music will be furnished by the Beams of Light choir of the local church and the male quartet under the direction of George Shaver.

The AHBLe is a world-wide interdenominational, family visitation project, dedicated to the placement of the Bible into homes having none. The Bibles are distributed free, without any obligation except to promise to read it in cooperation with local churches. The local Alliance Church, under the direction of its pastor, the Rev. Virgil B. Brisco, will undertake the placing of free Bibles in Kingston.

Serves as Consultant

Charles A. Traphagen, guidance director of the Ontario Central School, served as a consultant at the teachers' conference held at the New York State College for Teachers, Cortland on May 9. Traphagen served at the invitation of the officials of the college, and was in charge of the group which studied problems concerning ways and means of satisfying the personal-social needs of elementary age children. Several Ontario High School students accompanied Traphagen. They visited with admission officials of the college, and were conducted on a tour of the college by students of the institution.

ELLENVILLE NEWS

Ellenville, May 22—The week of May 23-30 has been proclaimed as American Legion Auxiliary Poppy Week by Mayor Frank Muller. Monies received from the sale of the poppies are used for child welfare and rehabilitation of hospitalized veterans and several local veteran's families have been assisted from the funds in the past year. It was explained in announcing the sale. At the same time residents were reminded by the auxiliary that the week of May 23-30 is the time to buy and wear your veteran made poppy in honor of our dead heroes.

The Ellenville Home Bureau Unit was host to a large group of representatives of six other county units Friday night at the first Home Bureau Achievement day to be held by districts in various parts of Ulster county. The meeting held at the Dutch Reformed Church was highlighted by an illustrated travel talk by Philip Davis of Kerhonkson, and a varied display of the handicraft made by the members of the seven units during the past year. Before Mr. Davis' talk, Mrs. Allen D. Potter, president of the Ellenville Unit, introduced representatives of the visiting units of Accord, Kerhonkson, Tamakwa, Tabasco, Walker Valley and Yagerville, who described briefly their work on display.

The Ellenville Medical Group Building was formerly opened Sunday afternoon, May 17, by Dr. Irving Feinberg, Dr. Henry Weiss, Dr. Harry Katz and Dr. Charles Rosenstock. About 500 persons took advantage of the open house to inspect the recently erected building which incorporates all the latest trends in buildings of this type.

Long under study and defeated in November, tentative purchase of the Kerhonkson railroad station property was voted by the town board at its regular May meeting May 14. The motion was made by Magistrate Herbert Poppe and seconded by Magistrate Louis Berger. Mr. Poppe moved to purchase the station at the "best possible price, but in no event to expend more than $11,500, the purchase to be conditioned upon the legal right of the town to buy the property and further that a clear and marketable title be given."

John H. Clifford has returned to his home after a stay of 10 days at Veterans Memorial Hospital where he underwent an operation. Richard Glennon of Woodhaven, L. I., spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Sophie Glennon. Mr. and Mrs. Russell Walker have returned after spending a few days in Buffalo.

The Misses Helen Schriver and Evelyn Hawksley returned Sunday from New York where they visited Miss Margaret Greene, a former local faculty member.

A group of men representing the Ellenville Methodist Church, attended a dinner meeting of the Methodist Men in Walden Methodist Church May 12.

Arthur Brown, who had been a patient at the local hospital, is recovering at his home.

Mrs. Stephen Wardynski has returned to her home after spending a couple of days at the Veterans Memorial Hospital.

Miss Helen Deuker of Jamaica, L. I., spent the weekend with her sister Mrs. Henrietta Evans.

Mrs. Anna Krabel spent a couple of days last week with friends in Port Ewen and Kingston.

A group from Ellenville and vicinity attended the rally at Madison Square Garden Saturday night. The program was sponsored by Jack Wurtzen, evangelist and conductor of the Word of Life radio and television shows.

The condition of Ira Schoonmaker, a patient at Veterans Memorial Hospital, remains about the same, according to reports.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Rouss visited Sunday in Brooklyn with the former's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Rouss. Mr. Rouss is soon to enter the hospital for surgery, so his brother, George, of Hartford, Conn., also visited him in the city Sunday.

Mrs. Jennie Easland of New York arrived Saturday to be with Miss Cora Low, who was injured in a fall last week in her home. Miss Low will return home within a few days from the local hospital, where she was taken following the accident. Mrs. Easland lived here for several years.

Mrs. Thomas Yarrow and daughter Grace moved this week from the Rosenberger house on Center street to an apartment in the Kuhlman house, 6 Circle avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Norton Newkirk of Miami, Fla., arrived last week-end to spend their vacation with his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Newkirk.

Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Perkins and family of Tupper Lake, visited Mrs. Conrad Perkins and Mrs. Margaret Lane over the weekend. Mr. Perkins has been transferred to Montrose Veterans Hospital near Peekskill, where they will move in the near future.

Mrs. Perkins will stay with her mother, Mrs. Lane, in the meantime.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Mentnech of Ulster Heights have moved into an apartment in the Bibb house on Park street.

Mrs. Lillian Schiff was taken to the Veterans Memorial Hospital Sunday suffering from a heart attack. At the present writing she is progressing slowly. William Schiff of Brooklyn came to Ellenville on account of the illness of his mother.

Mrs. Arthur Sanders and infant have returned to their home from Veterans Memorial Hospital. Her mother, Mrs. Leon Sylves, will return to her home in Blue Hills, Me., after spending some time here.

School for Waitresses

Salt Lake City (AP)—Hash slingers are plentiful but well trained waitresses are scarce. To overcome the scarcity in this section, a school is conducted to teach how to tote that tray and lay that platter down. The Salt Lake Area Vocational School, with the co-operation of the Utah State Restaurant Association, gives a six-week course to waitresses. Students are lectured on personal appearance, how to keep the thumb out of the soup, and safe ways to carry large trays of food or an armload of crockery.

New Fruit Package

San Jose, Calif. (AP)—A wax processing line for protectively coating fresh peaches has been developed by the machinery division of Food Machinery and Chemical Corporation here. Other new products include a machine for automatically unloading boxes of citrus fruit and a machine which prepares and dispenses individual servings of citrus juice from frozen concentrates.

Religious Theatre Meeting

Brussels (AP)—An international Congress of Religious Theatres will be held in Bruges (Belgium) between Aug. 12 and 17. Religious theatre groups from France, Switzerland, and Belgium will take part in the congress which will include talks, seminars, carillon concerts by the Belgian organist Staf Nees, museum visits and an exhibition of documents.

Water Resistant Duck

Salt Lake City (AP)—The Albert W. Hormans have a duck that doesn't like water. Hormans says the duck, a recent gift, just won't stay in the family pond. When he's placed in it he paddles out as fast as he can—and stays out. "He's certainly a queer duck," Hormans says.

Paint for Stucco

Paint applied to a stucco surface produces a smooth film which does not hold dirt. Rain easily cleans the surface. The appearance is pleasing and beating rains have little effect on it.

Depends on Pocketbook

Complete kitchen installations cost from $100 to $4,000, depending on the elaborateness of equipment, layout, wall finish and window and door treatment.

Nine American states had fewer people in 1952 than in 1950—West Virginia, Maine, North Dakota, Kentucky, Tennessee, Alabama, Mississippi, Arkansas.

THE BUICK

Tips on Care Of Shower Bath

With shower baths working overtime in most homes these days, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau offers some timely tips on the care of shower heads, cabinets and shower curtains.

If the openings in a shower head are clogged, remove the face of the head and clean the back surface and free holes with a coarse needle. The newest shower heads are virtually self-cleaning. A simple adjustment permits a flushing action to remove sediment.

When changing shower heads, wrap adhesive tape around the packing nut or pad the wrench jaws with a cloth. This will protect the chromium-plating.

Spread Curtains Flat

Shower curtains should be washed by spreading them flat on a table and sponging with sudsy water. Rinse the curtain with clear water then wipe with a clean cloth. Turn the curtain over and repeat on the other side. Then replace on the shower rod and spread it out straight to dry. While you're at it, give the shower rod a good cleaning. Shower curtains will last longer and look better if they are spread out on the rod to dry after each shower.

Clean prefabricated shower cabinets with soap and hot water, but never with gritty abrasives. New shower cabinets usually have enameled walls which will not withstand heavy scouring powders. The receptor should be protected by a heavy cloth or papers, if you stand on it to wash the inside walls of the cabinet.

Oxalic acid will do a good job in cleaning the walls of a tiled-in shower enclosure.

Slip Covers Revive Nondescript Chairs

Use slip covers to create definite periods for nondescript chairs, or sofas. These covers hide bad leg construction, ornate carving, and can correct lines.

For an Early American appearance, select ruffled flounces, and floral or plaid fabrics... for 18th century pieces choose trim box pleats, medium-to-large florals and woven stripes.

Straight, box or inverted pleats for corners give a modern air. Use rich colors, solid colored or textured fabrics, contrasting trim, or stripes, either woven or printed to repeat one of the room colors.

Acid Solution Removes Blotches on Brick Wall

Efflorescence—alkaline salts working to the surface—causes white, crusty blotches occurring sometimes on brick and concrete walls.

These blotches can be removed with a wire brush and washing with a solution of one part muriatic acid in 10 parts of water. Rinse with clear water two minutes after application of the solution to avoid pitting the surface.

Care must be taken to protect your eyes when using this strong solution. Wear rubber gloves, too, and old clothing.

Chinese Lantern Is A Hardy Perennial

The Chinese lantern plant (Physalis Francheti) has all the characteristics of a weed until the large lanterns turn a brilliant scarlet red. It is a hardy perennial that thrives in any average garden soil, doing as well in part shade as in full sun. Because it spreads by underground runners it requires careful watching if placed near choice plants.

Depending on conditions, it reaches a height of from 12 to 20 inches. If cut when the balloons have attained their full color they will last almost indefinitely out of water.

Asphalt Roofing Products

Asphalt roofing products are manufactured in varying weights, with the heavier roofings, such as asphalt three-tab or individual shingles, best adapted for permanent structures having sloping rather than flat-pitched roofs. Well suited for use on summer cottages, small farm service buildings and temporary storage structures are the lighter weight roofings of the roll type.

Skidproof Stairs

Collar stairs can be made almost skidproof by mixing an equal quantity of fine white sand in the final coat of deck enamel. Stir frequently while applying.

Prevents Cracking

The ends of new lumber can be prevented from checking and splitting by the application of a protective coating that seals the wood.

Use a Chisel

Nuts on bolts that cannot be loosened up even with an application of kerosene or penetrating oil can be removed by splitting the nut with a cold chisel.

Roomy Home With Cozy Appearance

Measuring 41'x26', the house proper can be built on a 65 foot lot. However, if you want a garage you'll have to add another 20 feet to the measurements; then, of course, you'll need at least an 85 foot lot. Cubage of the house is 23,000 feet; cubage of the garage and laundry utility room wing is 4,000 feet.

Just about any type of exterior finish can be used with equally successful and attractive results on "The Buick"; the house also can be built in just about any location. As with any house designed along straight, rather simple lines, you can greatly improve and personalize the appearance of "The Buick" by adding decorative touches, such as blinds at the windows, by installing a more ornamental front door than that conventionally used, by giving more color to your home through the right type of roofing and by providing overall charm through skilled landscaping.

The average family will find the interior of "The Buick" designed to suit their needs. Large enough to conveniently accommodate visitors and the family alike, the living room is a pleasant well lighted room that contains four windows.

Bookshelves, built into the further section of the right wall in the living room suggests that this section might be set apart as a family reading spot. In "The Buick" the living room must also serve as the dining area. However, you can easily solve the majority of the family's meals in the good sized breakfast room and reserve the living-dining room for more formal occasions.

Whether you're the lady of the house, or just another member of the family who builds "The Buick," you'll appreciate the abundance of centrally located closets in this house. Including the spacious broom closet in the laundry-utility room, there are nine closets in this one story house; they're all placed so that you can conveniently store things away and can easily lay your hands on the stored articles when you want them.

Cross ventilation and good lighting help to make both bedrooms very pleasant and comfortable. The den or bedroom which also can serve as a guest room, receives plenty of light and ventilation from two windows in the front wall. As a matter of fact, every room in "The Buick" reaps the benefits of good lighting and ventilation.

If you merely build the house proper, you will not have sufficient space for a first floor laundry; then, of course, you can have the laundry installed in the basement. It should be placed under the kitchen or bathroom.

Should you prefer a detached garage to the attached one illustrated such an arrangement can easily be made with your contractor.

For plan prices, write to the Home Building Editor, Dept. 24, Kingston Daily Freeman and enclose a self-addressed, 3c stamped envelope. Allow 7 to 10 days for a reply.

Cement Walk Easy to Build Right on Soil

A concrete sidewalk can be laid directly on the earth if it is well-drained, otherwise it should have a well-packed 6 inch base of clean gravel or cinders.

The concrete itself should be one part cement, two parts sand and three parts small crushed stone. Since three inches is the right thickness for a walk, 2x4's will serve as side forms, being held in position by stakes driven in the ground on the outside. Top edges of the 2x4's should mark the surface of the finished walk and the boards on one side should be 1/4 to 1/2 inch higher than the other so water will drain off the walk.

The walk is laid in 6 foot sections with narrow spaces between each section to allow for expansion. This is provided by setting boards on edge crosswise between the side 2x4's and tacking a strip of heavy tarred felt on one side of each cross-board.

When the side forms and cross-boards are in position, concrete is poured in alternate sections. When the concrete hardens, the cross-boards are removed, leaving the strips of felt in place, and concrete is poured in the remaining sections. As concrete is poured it should be spaded and tamped to settle the stones and pebbles and bring cement paste to the top to provide a smooth surface. After a section is poured, a straight board is set on edge across the walk from one side form to the other worked with a sawing, zig-zag motion to remove surplus concrete and to level the surface.

Loose Wood Knobs

Do you have trouble with screws which come loose in wood knobs such as are on chests? If so, use twine soaked in shellac and wet. After setting the screws in place in the knobs, allow them to dry for a full day. Then the knobs will hold fast.

Oils and Solvents

A common cause of "bleeding" colors and softening of rubber or asphalt tile is the use of oil or solvents. Solvents and buffing type waxes, oily dust-catching compounds and oil-treated mops never should be applied to such surfaces. Self-polishing water base waxes only should be used. If the "bleeding" is only moderate, a softened layer can sometimes be removed with floor cleaner and No. 1 steel wool. If the damage is extensive, however, the floor covering must be replaced.

Defense workers and men in the armed forces are buying more than 90 per cent of all trailer coaches made in the United States to keep their families with them wherever they move, according to trailer manufacturers.

Easy Stairs

What is considered an easy flight of stairs has risers, or upright boards between steps, 7 1/2 inches high. Treads, the parts you walk on, are 10 inches wide—affording ample footing.

OATIS WAS PROPAGANDA TOOL

In releasing Associated Press reporter William Oatis from prison in Czechoslovakia, the Communists have made another of those amicable gestures designed to convince the world of the Kremlin's peaceful intentions.

America and the free world are happy he is free. By our measure, one individual's liberty regained is an event worth noting.

But let it be understood the Reds really have given up nothing substantial, in terms of the larger issues of the cold war. If you falsely accuse a man, what have you yielded in withdrawing the false charges? Oatis did not need to be "pardoned," as the Czechs put it, for he had committed no crime.

Czech officials suggest they were moved to mercy by a letter Mrs. Oatis wrote to the late Klement Gottwald, former Czech president. But the chances are the letter was just a convenient device enabling them to don humanitarian robes.

In the Robert Vogeler case, there were at least the surface elements of a "deal," for we appeared to buy Vogeler's release from Hungary by canceling certain trade and travel restrictions we had imposed.

In the Oatis affair, no deal was made. The Reds took the initiative. Why?

The new Red "peace posture" probably was a big factor. But it was not likely the only one. We must hazard that from the start the Czechs intended to limit Oatis' imprisonment to a small part of his 10-year term. For they may have achieved much of their aim merely by trying him for espionage and putting him away for a time.

Oatis unquestionably was another pawn in the regular Communist game played to convince Iron Curtain peoples the West is plotting war. Besides, his jailing humiliated the United States, and gave the world an object lesson in our helplessness to free anyone in the reporter's predicament.

The uses of Red propaganda have now been served, the lesson has been given, so there is no longer real need to hold the prisoner. Besides, as we have seen, to free him at this time fits well the tactics of a new strategy—the peace offensive.

This is a not uncommon Communist maneuver, the effort to gain advantage first from doing something and then undoing it.

The Communists did not yield this time, as in Hungary, to economic pressures and general clamor. They let Oatis go when they were good and ready. But that does not mean the clamor and the pressure played no part. For if we were silent and supine, we would show we do not value human life, the Reds would take us at that measure, and our falsely imprisoned nationals would rot in dark cells forever.

O'REILLY OF JAPAN

An American soldier, Hugh Francis Xavier O'Reilly, made a lasting impression on the people of Japan. The New Yorker magazine, which recently devoted an article to him, quoted James A. Michener, noted writer on the Orient, as comparing the influence of O'Reilly on Japan with that of Lafayette Hearne.

O'Reilly was a sergeant whose job was to get good press relations for the 27th Regiment of the 25th Infantry Division. During his tour of duty in Japan he discovered the pitiful plight of a Japanese orphanage. He pleaded, cajoled and blarneyed his regimental comrades into contributing money to help the orphans. After a time the regiment, known as the "Wolfhounds," adopted the orphans as their pet project. On paydays they averaged a contribution of five dollars per man. On days off they visited the Japanese youngsters and worked around the asylum to make the place more livable.

In 1951 a newspaper in Osaka, Japan, named O'Reilly "Man of the Year," the first time the honor had ever been conferred on not a native of Japan. When the Wolfhounds went into combat in Korea the orphans wrote letters to their benefactors and offered daily prayers for their safety.

BOY MEETS GIRL

A reader telephoned to me to suggest that I do a column on the subject of a rich girl, Sara Delano Roosevelt descendant of Franklin D. Roosevelt, becoming engaged to a poor boy, Anthony di Bonaventura, the son of a barber. He said that I have been serious too long. Yet, what can be more serious or important than love and marriage, than the young in Spring finding a new world?

Which of these two is rich or poor, I do not know, because money is never the criterion with youth. Maybe they are both rich in the contentment that comes to them from their common bond of great music. Perhaps the young man is rich in the sense of strength and in the stability that comes from an early struggle for the sun against what some mistakenly call poverty. Perhaps the young lady has been enriched by an experience with a broken home and with a kindly stepfather who adopted her.

Who can know about such things that are deep in the memories of children and growing young people?

When I was very young, women reporters, professionally known as sob sisters, were sent on such stories. They would interview an immigrant mother who spoke not a word of English and who either beamed with joy or wept out of the anguish of losing a child to some alien and frightening environment. And maybe a small boy, like myself, would step out of the crowd of neighbors to interpret as best one could the story of struggle and high hopes.

There are hundreds such marriages among us in this country, because social barriers are disappearing, particularly in our colleges. Students of sociology cannot be so impressed by the term, "good families," and students of biology know that it is the genes and the chromosomes, and not the blood, that count in inherited qualities.

So they go along loving each other as the opportunities offer, because money does not count, anyhow. Four deaths, and a great estate is wiped out by taxes. It is not impossible to conceive of a Vanderbilt barber, just as old man di Bonaventura is a barber. And what is wrong with being a barber? Somebody tried to give him a pedigree as coming down from the Romans, which is undoubtedly correct, as it is with many Italians. Maybe, I am a descendant of King David. Who knows? I recall that my grandfather thought that he descended from Aaron, the brother of Moses, but he had no documents to prove it. Let us not go too far in genealogy, lest we discover that a man's a man no matter who his ancestor was a thousand years ago.

One of the celebrated marriages of my childhood was that of Rose Pastor to James G. Phelps-Stokes. Rose Pastor had started in a cigar factory and then wrote a column in a Yiddish newspaper, entitled "Among Ourselves, Girls," in which she gave advice freely, which is a journalistic habit. She particularly advised against intermarriage.

Along came Phelps-Stokes of Yale, rich, handsome, tall, to our very comfortable slums to be a settlement worker. He met Rose and married her and they moved down to the East Side of New York and became part of us. Phelps-Stokes entered politics and ran on William Randolph Hearst's ticket for the Independence League. Hearst was robbed by Tammany Hall and I, as a child, watched the destruction of the ballot boxes. It was one of my earliest lessons in practical politics.

Years later, Rose Pastor Stokes became one of the first American Communists and they were divorced. But it was a beautiful and exciting romance while it lasted.

A greater fuss used to be made over such adventures in romance 50 years ago than today, because the rich seemed to be richer and the poor seemed to be poorer. But we have been leveled to an economic common denominator and society in this country is no longer an aristocracy either of birth or money.

Cupid is a democrat and given free rein denies the differences that humans regard as so important. He shoots his arrow into two young people and they respond as did Adam and Eve or Romeo and Juliet or Pelles and Melisande and the less anybody does about it, the greater are the chances for happiness. That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SUGGESTIONS FOR MIGRAINE SUFFERERS

Migraine headache (one-sided headache) results from widening and stretching of the arteries of the head, chiefly those on the "outside" of the skull. I am quoting Drs. Robert M. Marcussen and Harold G. Wolff in Postgraduate Medicine. It may be hard for some migraine sufferers to realize that this heavy painful headache does not occur inside the skull, as many are sure they are afflicted with a brain tumor inside the skull.

When any of the arteries of the head can be affected and produce headaches, it is those in the region of the temple that are most commonly involved.

"The migraine headaches may vary from a dull one-sided headache to a pounding, prostrating pain involving the whole head." A mild or moderate headache can be relieved by two aspirins (acetyl salicylic acid) and a cup of strong coffee or other common headache remedy. Morphine or other narcotics should be avoided except cocaine.

In a number of articles dating several years back, I have recorded the original research work of Dr. Mary O'Sullivan in the use of ergotamine tartrate in the successful treatment of migraine. It is of interest to learn that this drug is still the chief standby giving quick relief. Thus Drs. Marcussen and Wolff state:

"When the pain is severe and the headache cannot be relieved by the usual pain-relieving remedies, the drug ergotamine tartrate (Gynergen) in doses of 0.25 to 0.5 mg., which narrows the painfully stretched arteries, given as soon as possible after the onset of pain, will usually cause the headache to become less severe or disappear within an hour after injection. Unfortunately, it cannot be used too often without harm, but can be given once or twice a week to healthy patients.

Physicians treating migraine have found that patients do best who lie down immediately after beginning of headache, preferably in a darkened, quiet room. An ice-cap to the painful part of the head and a heating pad or hot water bottle to the abdomen or feet are helpful. As nausea is often an accompanying symptom, sodium amylal, 0.2 gm. helps reduce nausea and promotes needed rest.

It is meeting life with attitudes that produce worry, fear, tension, resentment, rage, exhaustion together with too much ambition, that brings on migraine headaches. Drs. Marcussen and Wolff suggest cutting down on the number of things ordinarily done in a day. The patient must learn to be less fussy about minor details." Most migraine sufferers are "perfectionists."

Other suggestions are (a) not less than eight hours sleep every night and a half hour's rest after lunch, (b) a warm bath when tired and tense, (c) an evening walk, (d) avoid needless worry, (e) don't expect perfection from others.

Epitaph: "Bottoms Up"

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—David J. McDonald, new president of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, takes the spotlight on the labor stage as for the first time he heads the negotiating committee in wage negotiations with U. S. Steel Corp. executives.

The result of these talks may determine whether there will be what amounts to a seventh round of U. S. wage increases since the end of World War 2. Big Steel has in general set the pace for this advance. The new steelworkers' president thinks it should continue.

The base wage in steel was 78 cents an hour during the war. It was raised by 9 1/2 cents in January, 1946, and another 9 1/2 cents in February, 1947. Then came increases of 12 1/2 cents in April, 1947, 9 1/2 cents in July, 1948, and finally, two raises of 12 1/2 cents each in December, 1950, and March, 1952.

The total increase is 65 1/2 cents an hour to today's level of $1.43 1/2. This is only the base, or minimum job, class-one level.

The average steel wage rate is $2.06 an hour. And the American Iron and Steel Institute has just released figures indicating that with fringe benefits for insurance, pensions, paid vacations, holidays, shift differentials and overtime, the labor cost to the steel industry averages $2.38 an hour.

Dave McDonald, the man who now leads the drive to increase these returns to the steelworkers, isn't as well known as his predecessor, the late Philip Murray, who was also president of the CIO. But McDonald says he will simply be carrying on Murray's policies.

Understudy to Murray at 21

The two first became associated in 1923 when McDonald, then 21, took a job as private secretary to Murray, who was at that time vice president of the United Mine Workers. Murray was an understudy to John L. Lewis. McDonald became an understudy to Murray and stayed with him all through the past 30 years, while the steelworkers were organized, the CIO took shape and the break came with Lewis.

McDonald was secretary-treasurer under Murray till the steelworkers made him their president at Atlantic City last month.

McDonald today is 50. He is big, gray-eyed and gray-haired. He smokes big pipes and big cigars. He is soft-spoken—like Lewis is and Murray always was in their opening remarks. But when he gets warmed up, he likes to throw his weight around—again like Lewis and Murray—and cuss people out, like a steelworker.

Dave McDonald is the son of an Irish father who migrated to America by way of Wales. His father was run out of Springfield, Ill., for taking part in an old Knights of Labor strike. He settled in Pittsburgh. Dave was born there.

He got through two years of high school by age 15 and then went to work in a steel mill. He took some night-school courses in accounting and got a certificate from a school of dramatics.

He still likes the theater and in making speeches or conducting labor negotiations, he isn't above using touches of what might be called the dramatic art. After all, Lewis and Murray, before him, never hesitated to ham up the act when given a good cue.

Offices in New Building

McDonald makes his headquarters in Pittsburgh, where the present wage negotiations are being held. But recently the steelworkers moved their Washington offices out of the crowded CIO building near the White House, into a big, new air-conditioned building.

Tastefully decorated in brown and beige, with modernistic desks and chairs, the union's suite is only a trifle less lush than the U. S. Steel Corp. offices a block away.

After all, the steelworkers union is now big business itself. It has 1,250,000 members. Its financial statements show assets of close to $11 million.

McDonald doesn't go along with the Walter Reuther idea of fixed annual productivity increases for labor, nor with escalator clauses tied to the cost of living.

"The Lord help labor," he says, "if it ever gets wages tied down to cost of living." He recalls the story of an old mineworker in Pennsylvania who was objecting to what he thought was a sliding-scale clause in a coal contract. "What zips up," he cried out, "mus' zip down."

McDonald sees little hope of the Republican Congress doing anything about Taft-Hartley act revision this year. But he has no doubt that if his present negotiations lead to a strike, President Eisenhower will invoke a Taft-Hartley injunction against his union.

Only the wage provisions of the steel labor contract are up for revision this year. But the full contract expires July 1, 1954. And before that time, President McDonald wants the steel companies to begin studies on his union's proposals for a guaranteed annual wage.

There's nothing I can do about it, I wish her luck.

Plas Are Redoubled

Washington, May 22 (AP)—The Red Cross is redoubling its pleas for public blood donations in the face of a sharp decline in collections this week. The cause of it all, Red Cross Medical Director David Grant told a news conference yesterday, is the lack of public understanding of a new policy by the army medical branch.

Davis Begins Life Term for Slaying

Bridgeport, Conn., May 22 (AP)—Negro handyman William Davis, 29, begins a life term in Wethersfield state prison today for the slaying of his blonde employer with whom he claimed intimacy just before her death.

Only a Superior Court jury's recommendation of mercy after finding Davis guilty of first degree murder yesterday saved him from the electric chair.

Under the jury's recommendation, Davis could never be paroled. The jury of seven women and five men deliberated less than four hours.

The 29-year-old self-confessed killer said he strangled and stabbed Mrs. Senada "Penny" Evans, 30-year-old ex-actress and socialite in the bedroom of her Westport home on Jan. 26 after drinking and being intimate with her.

He pleaded temporary insanity. Davis said he reached this state after she threatened to call police when they argued. Claiming a fear of police brutality, Davis told the jury he went berserk and killed her.

A psychiatrist for the defense testified Davis hadn't been temporarily insane but that he had suffered from "fear hysteria" when he killed Mrs. Evans, estranged wife of New York writer Montgomery Evans 2nd. A state psychiatrist testified there is no such recognized diagnosis as "fear hysteria."

Bill Would Extend Pennsylvania Pike

Harrisburg, Pa., May 22 (AP)—An additional extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike would be constructed in northeastern Pennsylvania under a new bill in the Senate.

Introduced by Sen. T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) yesterday, the measure provides for an east-west connecting link somewhere along the route of the proposed northeastern extension approved by the 1951 Legislature.

The turnpike commission at present is making surveys in that part of the state to extend the toll road from a point east of Harrisburg to the New York state border in the Binghamton, N. Y., area.

The connecting link, proposed in Wood's bill, would shoot another stretch of toll road eastward to the Delaware river and westward to the Susquehanna.

Wood said construction of such a new link could accelerate the flow of traffic in the anthracite coal regions and also connect with the New Jersey Turnpike should that highway be extended through northwestern New Jersey.

Says Peril Still Exists

New York, May 22 (AP)—Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, supreme allied commander in Europe, says Russia's "peace" offensive hasn't lessened the peril of the free world. "We stand in just as great peril as ever we stood before," Ridgway said last night in his first public address since he took over command of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization last year.

Ridgway, designated to become army chief of staff, urged new, positive actions by the western allies to counter what he described as Russia's unchanged long-range objectives and implacable hostility.

"The double of a slam is not made merely to raise the price of admission," state Charles J. Solomon and Bennett L. Disbrow in their excellent new book, "How to Bid and What to Lead."

"Such a double is conventional," they continue, "and demands a specific lead. In other words, the partner of the leader believes that he can defeat the slam provided that his partner opens a certain suit."

"The leader must: (1) refrain from leading a suit which has been named by either the leader or his partner; (2) open the first side suit named by dummy, or if dummy has not bid a side suit, the first side suit named by the declarer; (3) if neither side has named a side suit, choose an unnatural opening; (4) be sure not to lead trump."

Today's hand is selected from the Solomon-Disbrow book. The two Philadelphia experts held this hand in actual play, and when Charlie Solomon doubled on the East cards, Disbrow, holding the West hand, realized that he had to find an abnormal lead.

Disbrow wisely selected the four of diamonds, thus giving his partner an immediate ruff. Solomon then cashed the ace of clubs, setting the slam contract at once.

If Disbrow had opened a spade, declarer would have made all of the tricks. He would have discarded his losing club on the ace of spades, drawn trumps, and run the diamonds.

If Disbrow had opened a club, declarer would have ruffed high on the second round of clubs, after which he could easily draw trumps and take his diamonds. Only the diamond opening lead could have defeated the contract.

Wages Take Increase

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—General Motors today announced an agreement with the CIO United Automobile Workers covering modification of the formula affecting wages of about 350,000 GM employees in the nation. The agreement calls for conversion to the new "revised" Federal Bureau of Labor Standards price index on the new BLS base. A total of 19 cents of the present 24 cents cost-of-living allowance will be transferred to the employees' base rates, effective June 1. The 19 cents represents the increase in the cost of living allowance during the period used by the government in its wage control program.

Hudson Report Given

Hudson, May 21 (AP)—The extraordinary grand jury probing vice in Columbia county said today it had uncovered "highly improper police practices" in Hudson, and it gave excerpts of its minutes to city officials for possible departmental action. The jury foreman, Dr. Harold L. Hansen of Chatham Center, said in a letter to Corporation Counsel Charles G. Alonge that the practices were "respecting entries in the police blotter affecting several police officers now suspended from the Hudson police force."

OATIS WAS PROPAGANDA TOOL
In releasing Associated Press reporter William Oatis from prison in Czechoslovakia, the Communists have made another of those amicable gestures designed to convince the world of the Kremlin's peaceful intentions.

America and the free world are happy he is free. By our measure, one individual's liberty regained is an event worth noting. But let it be understood the Reds really have given up nothing substantial, in terms of the larger issues of the cold war. If you falsely accuse a man, what have you yielded in withdrawing the false charges? Oatis did not need to be "pardoned," as the Czechs put it, for he had committed no crime.

Czech officials suggest they were moved to mercy by a letter Mrs. Oatis wrote to the late Klement Gottwald, former Czech president. But the chances are the letter was just a convenient device enabling them to don humanitarian robes.

In the Robert Vogeler case, there were at least the surface elements of a "deal," for we appeared to buy Vogeler's release from Hungary by canceling certain trade and travel restrictions we had imposed.

In the Oatis affair, no deal was made. The Reds took the initiative. Why?

The new Red "peace posture" probably was a big factor. But it was not likely the only one. We must hazard that from the start the Czechs intended to limit Oatis' imprisonment to a small part of his 10-year term. For they may have achieved much of their aim merely by trying him for espionage and putting him away for a time.

Oatis unquestionably was another pawn in the regular Communist game played to convince Iron Curtain peoples the West is plotting war. Besides, his jailing humiliated the United States, and gave the world an object lesson in our helplessness to free anyone in the reporter's predicament.

The uses of Red propaganda have now been served, the lesson has been given, so there is no longer real need to hold the prisoner. Besides, as we have seen, to free him at this time fits well the tactics of a new strategy—the peace offensive.

This is a not uncommon Communist maneuver, the effort to gain advantage first from doing something and then undoing it.

The Communists did not yield this time, as in Hungary, to economic pressures and general clamor. They let Oatis go when they were good and ready. But that does not mean the clamor and the pressure played no part. For if we were silent and supine, we would show we do not value human life, the Reds would take us at that measure, and our falsely imprisoned nationals would rot in dark cells forever.

O'REILLY OF JAPAN

An American soldier, Hugh Francis Xavier O'Reilly, made a lasting impression on the people of Japan. The New Yorker magazine, which recently devoted an article to him, quoted James A. Michener, noted writer on the Orient, as comparing the influence of O'Reilly on Japan with that of Lafcadio Hearn.

O'Reilly was a sergeant whose job was to get good press relations for the 27th Regiment of the 25th Infantry Division. During his tour of duty in Japan he discovered the pitiful plight of a Japanese orphanage. He pleaded, cajoled and blarneyed his regimental comrades into contributing money to help the orphans. After a time the regiment, known as the "Wolfhounds," adopted the orphans as their pet project. On paydays they averaged a contribution of five dollars per man. On days off they visited the Japanese youngsters and worked around the asylum to make the place more livable.

In 1951 a newspaper in Osaka, Japan, named O'Reilly "Man of the Year," the first time the honor had ever been conferred on anyone not a native of Japan. When the Wolfhounds went into combat in Korea the orphans wrote letters to their benefactors and offered daily prayers for their safety.

BOY MEETS GIRL

A reader telephoned to me to suggest that I do a column on the subject of a rich girl, Sara Delano Roosevelt descendant of Franklin D. Roosevelt, becoming engaged to a poor boy, Anthony di Bonaventura, the son of a barber. He said that I have been serious too long. Yet, what can be more serious or important than love and marriage, than the young in Spring finding a new world?

Which of these two is rich or poor, I do not know, because money is never the criterion with youth. Maybe they are both rich in the contentments that come to them from their common bond of great music. Perhaps the young man is rich in the sense of strength and in the stability that comes from an early struggle for the sun against what some mistakenly call poverty. Perhaps the young lady has been enriched by an experience with a broken home and with a kindly stepfather who adopted her.

Who can know about such things that are deep in the memories of children and growing young people? When I was very young, women reporters, professionally known as sob sisters, were sent on such stories. They would interview an immigrant mother who spoke not a word of English and who either beamed with joy or wept out of the anguish of losing a child to some alien and frightening environment. And maybe a small boy, like myself, would step out of the crowd of neighbors to interpret as best one could the story of struggle and high hopes.

There are hundreds such marriages among us in this country, because social barriers are disappearing, particularly in our colleges. Students of sociology cannot be too impressed by the term, "good families," and students of biology know that it is the genes and the chromosomes, and not the blood, that count in inherited qualities.

So they go along loving each other as the opportunities offer, because money does not count, anyhow. Four deaths, and a great estate is wiped out by taxes. It is not impossible to conceive of a Vanderbilt barber, just as old man di Bonaventura is a barber. And what is wrong with being a barber? Somebody tried to give him a pedigree as coming down from the Romans, which is undoubtedly correct, as it is with many Italians. Maybe, I am a descendant of King David. Who knows? I recall that my grandfather thought that he descended from Aaron, the brother of Moses, but he had no documents to prove it. Let us not go too far in genealogy, lest we discover that a man's name no matter who his ancestor was a thousand years ago.

One of the celebrated marriages of my childhood was that of Rose Pastor to James G. Phelps-Stokes. Rose Pastor had started in a cigar factory and then wrote a column in a Yiddish newspaper, entitled "Among Ourselves, Girls," in which she gave advice freely, which is a journalistic habit. She particularly liked to advise intermarriage.

Along came Phelps-Stokes of Yale, rich, handsome, tall, to our very comfortable slums to be a settlement worker. He met Rose and married her and they moved down to the East Side of New York and became part of us, Phelps-Stokes entered politics and ran on William Randolph Hearst's ticket for the Independence League. Hearst was robbed by Tammany Hall and I, as a child, watched the destruction of the ballot boxes. It was one of my earliest lessons in practical politics.

Years later, Rose Pastor Stokes became one of the first American Communists and they were divorced. But it was a beautiful and exciting romance while it lasted.

A greater fuss used to be made over such adventures in romance 50 years ago than today, because the rich seemed to be richer and the poor seemed to be poorer. But we have been leveled to an economic common denominator and society in this country is no longer an aristocracy either of birth or money.

Cupid is a democrat and given free rein denies the differences that humans regard as so important. He shoots his arrow into two young people and they respond as did Adam and Eve or Romeo and Juliet or Pelles and Melisande and the loss anybody does about it, the greater are the chances for happiness.

That Body of Yours

By JAMES W. BARTON, M.D.

SUGGESTIONS FOR MIGRAINE SUFFERERS

Migraine headache (one-sided headache) results from widening and stretching of the arteries of the head, chiefly those on the "outside" of the skull. I am quoting Drs. Robert M. Marcusen and Harold G. Wolff in Postgraduate Medicine. It may be hard for some migraine sufferers to realize that this heavy painful headache does not occur inside the skull, as many are sure they are afflicted with a brain tumor inside the skull.

While any of the arteries of the head can be affected and produce headaches, it is those in the region of the temple that are most commonly involved.

The migraine headaches may vary from a dull one-sided headache to a pounding, prostrating pain involving the whole head. A mild or moderate headache can be relieved by two aspirins (acetylsalicylic acid) and a cup of strong coffee or other common headache remedy. Morphine or other narcotics should be avoided except cocaine.

In a number of articles dating several years back, I have recorded the original research work of Dr. Mary O'Sullivan in the use of ergotamine tartrate in the successful treatment of migraine. It is of interest to learn that this drug is still the chief standby giving quick relief. Thus Drs. Marcusen and Wolff state:

"When the pain is severe and the headache cannot be relieved by the usual pain-relieving remedies, the drug ergotamine tartrate (Gynergen) in doses of 0.25 to 0.5 mg., which narrows the painfully stretched arteries, given as soon as possible after the onset of pain, will usually cause the headache to become less severe or disappear within an hour after injection. Unfortunately, it cannot be used too often without harm, but can be given once or twice a week to healthy patients."

Physicians treating migraine have found that patients do best who lie down immediately after beginning of headache, preferably in a darkened, quiet room. An ice-cap to the painful part of the head and a heating pad or hot water bottle to the abdomen or feet are helpful. As nausea is often an accompanying symptom, sodium amylal, 0.2 gm. helps reduce nausea and promotes needed rest.

It is meeting life with attitude that produces worry, fear, tension, resentment, rage, exhaustion together with too much ambition, that brings on migraine headaches. Drs. Marcusen and Wolff suggest cutting down on the number of things ordinarily done in a day. "The patient must learn to be less fussy about minor details." Most migraine sufferers are "perfectionists," not less than eight hours sleep every night and a half hour's rest after lunch, (b) a warm bath when tired and tense, (c) an evening walk, (d) avoid needless worry, (e) don't expect perfection from others.

Edson's Washington News Notebook

By PETER EDSON

NEA Washington Correspondent

Washington (NEA)—David J. McDonald, new president of the United Steelworkers of America, CIO, takes the spotlight on the labor stage as for the first time he heads the negotiating committee in wage negotiations with U. S. Steel Corp. executives.

The result of these talks may determine whether there will be what amounts to a seventh round of U. S. wage increases since the end of World War 2. Big Steel has in general set the pace for this advance. The new steelworkers' president thinks it should continue.

The base wage in steel was 78 cents an hour during the war. It was raised by 9 1/2 cents in January, 1946, and another 9 1/2 cents in February, 1947. Then came increases of 12 1/2 cents in April, 1947, 9 1/2 cents in July, 1948, and finally, two raises of 12 1/2 cents each in December, 1950, and March, 1952.

The total increase is 65 1/2 cents an hour to today's level of $1.43 1/2. This is only the base, or minimum job, class-one level.

The average steel wage rate is $2.06 an hour. And the American Iron and Steel Institute has just released figures indicating that with fringe benefits for insurance, pensions, paid vacations, holidays, shift differentials and overtime, the labor cost to the steel industry averages $2.38 an hour.

Dave McDonald, the man who now leads the drive to increase these returns to the steelworkers, isn't as well known as his predecessor, the late Philip Murray, who was also president of the CIO. But McDonald says he will simply be carrying on Murray's policies.

Understudy to Murray at 21

The two first became associated in 1923 when McDonald, then 21, took a job as private secretary to Murray, who was at that time vice president of the United Mine Workers. Murray was an understudy to John L. Lewis. McDonald became an understudy to Murray and stayed with him all through the past 30 years, while the steelworkers were organized, the CIO took shape and the break came with Lewis.

McDonald was secretary-treasurer under Murray till the steelworkers made him their president at Atlantic City last month.

McDonald today is 50. He is big, gray-eyed and gray-haired. He smokes big pipes and big cigars. He is soft-spoken—like Lewis is and Murray always was in their opening remarks. But when he gets warmed up, he likes to throw his weight around—again like Lewis and Murray—and cuss people out, like a steelworker.

Dave McDonald is the son of an Irish father who migrated to America by way of Wales. His father was run out of Springfield, Ill., for taking part in an old Knights of Labor strike. He settled in Pittsburgh. Dave was born there.

He got through two years of high school by age 15 and then went to work in a steel mill. He took some night-school courses in accounting and got a certificate from a school of dramatics. He still likes the theater and in making speeches or conducting labor negotiations, he isn't above using touches of what might be called the dramatic art. After all, Lewis and Murray, before him, never hesitated to ham up the act when given a good cue.

Offices in New Building

McDonald makes his headquarters in Pittsburgh, where the present wage negotiations are being held. But recently the steelworkers moved their Washington offices out of the crowded CIO building near the White

McDonald doesn't go along with the Walter Reuther idea of fixed annual productivity increases for labor, nor with escalation clauses tied to the cost of living.

"The Lord help labor," he says, "if it ever gets wages tied down to cost of living." He recalls the story of an old miner who in Pennsylvania was objecting to what he thought was a sliding-scale clause in a coal contract. "What zips up," he cried out, "must zip down."

Only the wage provisions of the steel labor contract are up for revision this year. But the full contract expires July 1, 1954. And before that time, President McDonald wants the steel companies to begin studies on his union's proposals for a guaranteed annual wage.

"The double of a slam is not made merely to raise the price of admission," state Charles J. Solomon and Bennett L. Disbrow in their excellent new book, "How to Bid and What to Lead."

"Such a double is conventional," they continue, "and demands a specific lead. In other words, the partner of the leader believes that he can defeat the slam provided that his partner opens a certain suit."

"The leader must: (1) refrain from leading a suit which has been named by either the leader or his partner; (2) open the first side suit named by dummy, or if dummy has not bid a side suit, the first side suit named by the declarer; (3) if neither side has named a side suit, choose an unnatural opening; (4) be sure not to lead trump."

Today's hand is selected from the Solomon-Disbrow book. The two Philadelphia experts held this hand in actual play, and when Charlie Solomon doubled on the East cards, Disbrow, holding the West hand, realized that he had to find an abnormal lead.

Disbrow wisely selected the four of diamonds, thus giving his partner an immediate ruff. Solomon then cashed the ace of clubs, setting the slam contract at once.

If Disbrow had opened a spade, declarer would have made all of the tricks. He would have discarded his losing club on the ace of spades, drawn trumps, and run the diamonds.

If Disbrow had opened a club, declarer would have ruffed high on the second round of clubs, after which he could easily draw trumps and take his diamonds. Only the diamond opening lead could have defeated the contract.

Wages Take Increase

Detroit, May 22 (AP)—General Motors today announced an agreement with the CIO United Automobile Workers covering modification of the formula affecting wages of about 350,000 GM employees in the nation. The agreement calls for conversion to the new "revised" Federal Bureau of Labor Standards price index on the new BLS base. A total of 19 cents of the present 24 cents cost-of-living allowance will be transferred to the employees' base rates, effective June 1. The 19 cents represents the increase in the cost of living allowance during the period used by the government in its wage control program.

Hudson Report Given

Hudson, May 21 (AP)—The extraordinary grand jury probing vice in Columbia county said today it had uncovered "highly improper police practices" in Hudson, and it gave excerpts of its minutes to the officials for possible departmental action. The jury foreman, Dr. Harold L. Hansen of Chatham Center, said in a letter to Corporation Counsel Charles G. Alonge that the practices were "respecting entries in the police blotter affecting several police officers not suspected from the Hudson police force."

Local Death

Charles F. Fischer
Charles "Carl" Fischer, formerly of 257 Abel street, died Friday afternoon after a long illness. Surviving are a half-brother, Augustus Fischer of Kingston and several nieces and nephews. His wife, the former Lillian Archer, died in 1946. Mr. Fischer was one of the oldest boat captains on the Hudson river and was well-known throughout the Hudson and Mohawk areas. Funeral services will be held at 10 a. m. Monday at the Jensen and Deegan Funeral Home, 15 Downs street, with burial in Montrose cemetery. Friends may call at the chapel at any time.

Modesto Alvarez
Modesto Alvarez of 52 Maiden Lane died this morning in Kingston. He is survived by a stepson, Clifton Sparks, Hempstead, L. I., three nieces, Mrs. George B. Stanwick and Mrs. Walter Gerbereux, both of Yonkers and Sister Maria Patricia of the Holy Name convent, San Antonio, Fla., a nephew, Innocencio Alvarez, Bath; and two sisters, residing in Havana, Cuba, and in Spain. Mr. Alvarez was connected with the J. B. Back and Company, this city, for 22 years. He was a 50-year member of the LaNational Society of New York. Funeral will be held Monday at 8:45 a. m. from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home, thence to St. Mary's Church where at 9 a. m. a Mass will be celebrated. Burial will be in St. Mary's cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home at any time.

Auriol Studies Crisis
Paris, May 23 (AP)—French President Vincent Auriol went through the motions of studying the nation's political crisis today in a series of short meetings with leaders of various political groups. No one gave Auriol any chance of finding a quick solution to the situation which followed the defeat and ouster of the Rene Mayer cabinet, the 18th non-liberation government, on Thursday.

Woman Is Found Slain
New York, May 23 (AP)—Mrs. Luz Rosario Torres, 20-year-old recent bride, was found slain today in the vestibule of the building where she lived (466 West 22d street). Her throat had been cut. Police said relatives and neighbors were being questioned in an effort to locate the escort with whom Mrs. Torres left a dance hall at 155th street and Broadway some hours earlier.

First Flight Underway
Oslo, Norway, May 23 (AP)—A Scandinavian Airlines plane took off here today on what was believed to be the first commercial flight from Europe to Tokyo via the North Polar region. Carrying 40 workers assigned to relief duty at the Norwegian field hospital in Korea, the airliner Hjalmar Viking was due in Tokyo May 25 after stops in Alaska on the Aleutian Islands.

DIED
ALVAREZ—In this city, Saturday May 23, 1953, Modesto Alvarez. Funeral will be held Monday morning at 8:45 from the James M. Murphy Funeral Home and at 9 o'clock at St. Mary's Church where a Mass of Requiem will be offered. Interment in St. Mary's cemetery. Friends may call any time.

FISCHER—Entered into rest Friday, May 22, 1953, Charles (Carl) Fischer, formerly of 257 Abel street, husband of the late Lillian Archer Fischer and half brother of Augustus Fischer. ## PFO to Elect New Officers on May 28

New Paltz, May 23—Election of officers and consideration of a proposed reorganization plan will be the main order of business at the meeting of the planning board of the Parent Faculty Organization of the Campus Elementary school in the library, Thursday, May 28, at 8 p. m.

The following slate of officers will be proposed at that meeting: President, Mrs. Albert S. Kerr; vice president, Mrs. Laurin Abrams; secretary, Mrs. Victor Landau and Mrs. Stephen Tenedini; treasurer, Mrs. Abram Paradies and Bob Glanz.

Lively discussion at the May 18 meeting for investigating means of reorganizing the PFO led to the formation of a committee to present a detailed plan. Many suggestions were passed on to that committee for consideration.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Albert S. Kerr, Edgar Klugman, Mrs. Landau, Mrs. Nystrom and Mrs. Greene.

Church Notes

New Paltz, May 23—Monday, May 25, is the date for Officer's Training Day of the WSCS. All new officers are asked to attend. The officers for the past year also are requested to be present. The last quarter and annual reports will be made with the promotion secretary to end the year by June 1.

Sunday, May 24, will be Pentecost and Aldersgate Sunday at the Methodist Church. Pentecost will commemorate the beginning of the Christian Church and Aldersgate celebrates the beginning of Methodism under John Wesley at Aldersgate, England. New members will also receive the sacrament of Baptism.

The Seekers Class will meet Tuesday, May 26. The Eendracht Club of the Reformed Church held a picnic supper on the church grounds at the fire place on the north end. The Rev. G. J. Wulfschlegel paid tribute to the group for their contribution to the church. Last Sunday, they served the tables for the Men's Communion Breakfast. Each Sunday they conduct the nursery to enable parents to attend church together.

The Youth Fellowship of the Reformed Church attended the Oakwood Rally at the Fair Street Church on Saturday May 17. New draperies in the Social Room of the Reformed Church were presented by the Dutch Guild.

Library Plant Sale

The Elting Memorial Library will be benefited by a plant sale May 26. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. and will be held in the rear garden if weather permits and indoors if it rains. Chrysanthemums, early blue phlox, hardy candy-tuft, double kerria, primroses and other plants will be offered.

Campus School News

Outdoor Memorial Day Program
All children in grades one through eight are preparing for a Memorial Day assembly to be held on the Campus school lawn, Friday, May 29, at 1:30 p. m. After presentation of the colors and the greeting, each grade will sing a group of songs. All parents and friends are invited to join in front of the school that day.

Parents Entertained
Mr. Deeb's fifth grade entertained their parents Thursday. The girls, with the help of Miss Goodman, student teacher, made tasty cookies. Mrs. Nelson helped make the party successful by bringing in punch. Mrs. Anderson contributed brownies.

The students acted as hosts and hostesses, introducing parents, and explaining some of the work which has been done such as social studies projects and art work. Many parents attended the party.

Trip Booklet Assembled
A booklet describing interesting trips for classes in the near area was distributed to members of the faculty Wednesday. Compiled by members of the Parent Faculty Organization, the booklet tells of exact locations, what may be seen, and advance arrangements to be made by the teacher.

A ceramic studio where the entire ceramic process on a small scale may be seen; dairy, fruit and chicken farms whose owners will explain their operation; banks and other local businesses which show how community and even outside needs are filled here in New Paltz, are included in the booklet.

Led by Mrs. Keith Smiley, chairman, the committee consists of Mrs. David Corwin, Mrs. Sidney Haas, Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. Gerow Smiley and Miss Jane Stafford. Faculty advisors. They plan to add descriptions of other available trips to the booklet from time to time.

Poison Ivy Control
Mrs. Henry Barg, chairman of the Health and Safety Committee of the Parent Faculty Organization, and Mrs. Robert Clarkson, next year's chairman, have agreed to try to sponsor a poison ivy control drive in the village this year. They will need the help of many parents.

All-Kindergarten Picnic
The final spree of the year for kindergartners and their families will take place June 3. A picnic to which all members of the family are invited will be held at the Rod and Gun Club at 5:30 p. m. Each family is asked to bring its own picnic supper. Lemonade will be served.

After supper, a brief meeting will be held to enable Dr. George Thomas to discuss with the parents some of the problems accompanying the division of the present kindergarten children into groups for the village and campus schools. During the meeting games and other activities will be arranged for the children.

Communication Studied
A student of Miss Gloria Sorrentino's seventh grade has contributed this summary of a study of communication mediums recently completed by the groups:

Miss Sorrentino's seventh grade has completed an all-round study of newspapers, comics, movies, radio and television. The object of this study was to see how these different ways of communication influenced children as well as adults.

In the study of the newspaper, each child was given a copy of The Herald Tribune. The children analyzed it to see what a newspaper is composed of. The study of the comic books was done in much the same manner. A group of two or three boys and girls was given a special type of comic book to analyze. On large pieces of paper went titles such as, "Slang," "Verb tense," "Contractions" and a few others. Under these titles the children put words particular to that title, found in their comic books.

The study of radio, movies and television was much alike. With movies, the group studied sound tracks, two and three dimensional and last of all, animated cartoons.

Village Notes

New Paltz, May 23—Miss Nancy Bollen had her tonsils removed Wednesday morning, May 20, at Vassar Brothers Hospital. Nicholas Kursten is a patient at Kingston Hospital where he recently underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards are the parents of a son born last week in El Paso, Tex. Mrs. Edwards is the former Ella May McElroy of New Paltz. This is their second son.

The former Gardiner Home on Main street has been purchased by Mr. Ackerman of Clintondale. This property is being remodeled and will offer additional business space for New Paltz as well as provide more apartments. Extensive renovation and enlargement is being done. This is a definite improvement for the main thoroughfare of the village. It is two buildings east of the Huguenot Bank.

There is some talk that the Chamber of Commerce will seek to get some off-the-street parking space near the center of the village. The space being considered is to the rear of the block on Main street from North Front to Church and in the triangle formed by Church, North Front and Main. This would be a desirable spot due to its location. For people who have to park longer than an hour the convenience would be excellent.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Rost attended Parents Day at Princeton University May 16. This was the fifth annual Freshman Parents' Day. Ernest Rost is a member of the freshman class. A full schedule of activity was planned for the visitors. An opportunity to consult with each student's faculty advisor was planned and a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Dodds climaxed the day.

Still Far Apart

Hartford, Conn., May 23 (AP)—Gov. John Lodge and Republican members of the Legislature's Finance Committee continue far apart on a state tax program today with a partial showdown on the matter due Monday. While the governor and his party members reasserted their stands on the two tax programs yesterday, Democrats announced they would introduce Monday another tax measure which is similar to Lodge's. Lodge, in a television talk, again said he thought the finance committee's 42 million dollar new tax program was favorable to corporations at the expense of the average taxpayer.

Would Support Request

Taipei, Formosa, May 23 (AP)—Nationalist China said tonight it will give full support to Thailand's projected request to the United Nations to investigate the Communist threat stemming from the Vietnam invasion of Laos. A foreign office spokesman said the Nationalist government is "much concerned about the outlook for security in Thailand" because of close friendship between Thailand and Nationalist China.

Elders Supervised Students' Gay Night
New Brunswick, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A gay night in New York by New Brunswick High School seniors last night was stamped with approval today by parents and school officials.

The elders had supervised the whole thing. It was an effort to halt a growing problem in recent years of unorganized excursions to night clubs after the senior prom.

As in many other schools, the prom in the high school gym was becoming simply a place to meet to start for somewhere else. The prom band was playing to a practically empty floor—and to chaperones who had been left behind.

So this year, school officials, the Parent Teacher Association and student leaders hatched this plan to satisfy young and old alike: The students stayed at the prom until it ended shortly before midnight. Then they—and the chaperones—piled into six buses chartered by the PTA and drove 35 miles to the Hotel Astor in New York for more dancing and partying. They stayed there until the wee hours, then the buses took them to the Roger Smith Hotel in New Brunswick for breakfast. The kids got home about 6 a. m., local time.

Memorial Services Planned for Hurley
Memorial services will be held at the Honor Roll in Hurley at 10:30 a. m. Saturday, May 30, at which time Frederick Snyder, well-known lecturer, will speak. The service is being sponsored by the Hurley Grange. In case of rain the services will be held in the Hurley Town Hall.

New Funeral Home On Albany Avenue

FRANK H. SIMPSON

A new funeral home to be operated by Frank H. Simpson at 411 Albany avenue will be open for public inspection between the hours of 2 and 10 p. m., Sunday, May 24.

The modern funeral home which features the latest techniques in the business was built on property purchased last September. The interior of the former Adler property has been entirely remodeled and newly furnished with the aim of making it both attractive and comfortable in its general atmosphere.

The home consists of a large reception hall, two chapels, a private office, selection room and preparation room, with the family living quarters located on the second floor. Extensive landscaping and tree removing made possible a large parking area with a front entrance on Albany avenue and a back entrance from Manor place.

Simpson will bring valuable World War 2 experience in plastic surgery and embalming to his new business. In 1942 he joined the USNR and served three and one-half years as a pharmacist's mate. Most of his service time was spent in the South Pacific area.

Upon his return to the United States, Simpson was assigned to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital where he was in charge of the care and shipment of deceased servicemen to their home states. While in the armed forces he received valuable training in the treatment of extreme surgery and plastic cases.

KHS Graduate
The new funeral director was graduated from Public School 5 in Kingston; also Kingston High and the Collier School of Embalming Technique, New York. He then took a special course in plastic surgery in connection with the Restorative Art program. He is a licensed New York state embalmer and undertaker.

After graduating from the Collier School of Embalming, he served his apprenticeship with the Thomas M. Quinn Sons, Inc. Funeral Homes of Long Island. After his discharge from service, Simpson returned to the Quinn establishments to further his experience and acquire his New York state license as an embalmer.

From Nov. 1948, to Feb. 1, 1951, when he was recalled to active duty by the navy, he was employed by the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Home, serving as manager of their Rosendale branch.

Simpson is the son of Harvey E. and Jane DeGraff Simpson of 248 Clifton avenue. Fraternally he is associated with BPOE No. 550, Kingston Elks; Rosendale Grange, East Kingston Rod and Gun Club and the American Legion.

He is married to the former Julia Guido, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Guido, formerly of East Kingston, now of 22 Van Gaasbeck street. Mrs. Simpson is a graduate of Kingston High School and the Benedictine School of Nursing. They have two children, Frank Jr., age 5, and Patricia Ann, age two and one half years.

Will Ask Ruling
Washington, May 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court will be asked to decide a rate regulating question potentially affecting users of natural gas throughout a large part of the country. The question is whether the Federal Power Commission (FPC) has legal authority to regulate the interstate sale price charged by a company that produces and gathers natural gas.

The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision yesterday said FPC should regulate the rates charged by Phillips Petroleum Co., which sells to interstate pipeline companies the gas it gathers from wells in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Fellowships Announced
Ithaca, May 23 (AP)—Cornell University announced today the award of 22 new fellowships, granting from $1,300 to $2,500 a year, for graduating students. The awards were established, the university said, because of what it termed a great need for training scientists and scholars for future public service. Among those granted "junior fellowships," which grant $1,000, plus tuition, were John Cummings of Tarrytown, and Lawrence Richard of Warnerville.

Driver Gets Prison Term
Belvidere, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A 21-year-old Scranton, Pa., truck driver—whose vehicle was involved in a crash that killed 10 members of one family—has received a two-to-three-year prison term. The crash, which occurred March 20, killed Clarence Matlock, a dairy farmer; his wife, five children, two sisters and mother. Matlock's car collided with Scranton's truck on a two-lane highway in nearby Washington township.

Locusts to Appear Here

Ithaca, N. Y.—Many New Yorkers will get their first glimpse of the 17-year cicada (locust) when it appears in this state during the end of May and the first two weeks in June, Prof. R. W. Leiby, Cornell entomologist, said today. But the largest numbers of these insects will appear in the Hudson Valley and in Chautauque, Monroe, and Tompkins counties, he pointed out.

Since millions of cicadas may appear in any locality their song will be almost deafening. Only the males do the singing, for they have a set of muscles that vibrate two small drumlike organs on the underside of the body. This singing caused a poet to say, "Happy are the cicadas lives for they all have voiceless wives."

"Millions of young cicadas emerge from the soil in woodlots, climb onto trees and shed their skins to become adults. These linger near the area about four weeks before they die, but during this period considerable damage can be done from their egg laying," the entomologist reported. "The females lay their eggs under the bark of trees, particularly young apple trees. Unfortunately, no effective preventive measures are known since the last cycle of Brood 10 appeared before the days of modern insecticides."

The eggs hatch in about five weeks and the young cicadas crawl into the soil. Although they remain underground for 17 years, feeding on sap from the roots of trees, they don't do any noticeable damage, Leiby said.

Meeting Is Slated Monday to Help Ulster Farmers

All Ulster county farmers are eligible to attend a meeting May 25 with representatives of the Farmers Home Administration, Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service and Forest Service at which recommendations for the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program for county farms will be developed. It was announced today by John S. Geary, chairman of the county Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

The meeting will be held at the court house in Kingston at 7:30 p. m. Geary announced that the primary objective of the 1954 program is to provide assistance needed for enduring or permanent type soil and water conservation practices that contribute to the accomplishment of the basic conservation objective of the Department of Agriculture: "the use of each acre of agricultural land within the capabilities and the treatment of each acre in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement."

Births

The city registrar recently recorded the following births:

May 15—Douglas Francis to Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Thomas Hoffman, 363 Wilbur avenue; Steven to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Sorbello, Highland, and Nancy Jane to Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Scitz, 257 West Chestnut street.

May 16—Deborah Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Lee Finch, 81 Green street; Guy James to Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Walker, 212 Foxhall avenue, and Sterling Clifford, Jr., to Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Atkins, Port Jervis.

May 20—Joan Lorraine to Mr. and Mrs. James Frank Castle, 173 Smith avenue.

Savings and Loan District Meeting Is Held in Kingston

The regular monthly meeting of the board of governors of the Capital District Chapter 131, Savings and Loan Institute, was held Thursday evening at the Kirkland Hotel.

Members of the board attended from Mechanicville, Gloversville, Schenectady, Troy and Kingston. William D. Costello, assistant secretary of the Homeowners Savings and Loan Association was elected to the board to fill a vacancy. The other local representative is H. Van Wyck Darrow, cashier of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston.

Plans were made for the annual dinner and graduation to be held June 20 at the Hendrick Hudson Hotel in Troy. Invited guests at the meeting were E. Frank Flanagan, president of the Savings and Loan Association of Kingston, and Dewese DeWitt, executive secretary of the Homeowners Savings and Loan Association.

Sees Overproduction Coming to Head Here

Moscow, May 23 (AP)—Famous Soviet economist Eugene Verga declared today there are some signs in the U. S. economy that "overproduction of merchandise is coming to a head." He predicted "aggravated" conflicts between the United States and other capitalist nations.

The Hungarian-born economist set forth his views in Pravda, the newspaper of the Soviet Communist party's central committee.

"In these conditions," he said, "it would be senseless to expect that American monopolies will more widely open the doors for foreign goods. On the contrary, one can expect further intensification of protectionism in the United States."

Asserting that the "policy of high tariffs in the United States arouses intensified dissatisfaction in other capitalist countries," Verga predicted that conflicts between the capitalists of the United States and other capitalist nations would become "more aggravated in the future."

"It is becoming more evident," he declared, "that not only the popular masses but also the so-called business circles in western European countries will try to seek a path for their liberation from American slavery."

Believe Building Was Struck by Lightning

Elizabeth, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A two-story brick building—believed to have been hit by lightning—was destroyed today in a fire that did damage estimated at a million dollars.

The estimate came from Acting Fire Chief Lawrence M. Wayson who said he believed the fire was caused by lightning.

The building, located near the center of this industrial town, was flanked by a parking lot on one side and a use car lot on the other. It was this that prevented the general alarm fire from spreading.

The building was believed to have been unoccupied, although Wayson received reports that a porter may have been trapped. A search by firemen failed to disclose any clues.

Wedding Attracts Notables

New York, May 23 (AP)—The kind of a wedding that girls dream about—a solemn cathedral ceremony and a plushy reception later—is attracting a host of notables to Manhattan today. The bride will be Eunice Mary Kennedy, of Palm Beach, Fla., and Hyannisport, Mass., daughter of wealthy Joseph P. Kennedy, wartime ambassador to Great Britain, and Mrs. Kennedy. She will marry Robert Sargent Shriver, Jr., Yale graduate, submarine service veteran and Chicago business man. Francis Cardinal Spellman will perform the wedding and nuptial Mass (10 a. m. EST) in St. Patrick's Cathedral on Fifth avenue, after which the 1,700 guests will go to the Waldorf Astoria's Starlight Roof for luncheon and dancing.

PFO to Elect New Officers on May 28

New Paltz, May 23—Election of officers and consideration of a proposed reorganization plan will be the main order of business at the meeting of the planning board of the Parent Faculty Organization of the Campus Elementary school in the library, Thursday, May 28, at 8 p. m.

The following slate of officers will be proposed at that meeting: President, Mrs. Albert S. Kerr; vice president, Mrs. Laurin Abrams; secretary, Mrs. Victor Landau and Mrs. Stephen Tenedini; treasurer, Mrs. Abram Paradis and Bob Glanz.

Lively discussion at the May 18 meeting for investigating means of reorganizing the PFO led to the formation of a committee to present a detailed plan. Many suggestions were passed on to that committee for consideration. Members of the committee are Mrs. Albert S. Kerr, Edgar Klugman, Mrs. Landau, Mrs. Nystrom and Mrs. Greene.

Church Notes

New Paltz, May 23—Monday, May 25, is the date for Officer's Training Day of the WSCS. All new officers are asked to attend. The officers for the past year also are requested to be present. The last quarter and annual reports will be made with the promotion secretary to end the year by June 1.

Sunday, May 24, will be Pentecost and Aldersgate Sunday at the Methodist Church. Pentecost will commemorate the beginning of the Christian Church and Aldersgate celebrates the beginning of Methodism under John Wesley at Aldersgate, England. New members will also receive the sacrament of Baptism.

The Seekers Class will meet Tuesday, May 26.

The Eendracht Club of the Reformed Church held a picnic supper on the church grounds at the fireplace on the north end. Rev. G. J. Wullschlaeger paid tribute to the group for their contribution to the church. Last Sunday, they served the tables for the Men's Communion Breakfast. Each Sunday they conduct the nursery to enable parents to attend church together.

The Youth Fellowship of the Reformed Church attended the Oakwood Rally at the Fair Street Church in Kingston May 17.

New draperies in the Social Room of the Reformed Church were presented by the Dutch Guild.

Library Plant Sale

The Elting Memorial Library will be benefited by a plant sale May 26. The sale will begin at 10 a. m. and will be held in the rear garden if weather permits and indoors if it rains. Chrysanthemums, early blue phlox, hardy candy-tufts, double kerrig, primroses and other plants will be offered.

Campus School News

Outdoor Memorial Day Program
All children in grades one through eight are preparing for a Memorial Day assembly to be held on the Campus school lawn, Friday, May 29, at 1:30 p. m. After presentation of the colors and the reading of the Declaration of Independence, each grade will sing a group of songs. All parents and friends are invited to join in front of the school that day.

Parents Entertained

Mr. Deeb's fifth grade entertained their parents Thursday. The girls, with the help of Miss Goodman, student teacher, made tasty cookies. Mrs. Nelson helped to make the party successful by bringing in refreshments. Mrs. Anderson contributed brownies.

The students acted as hosts and hostesses, introducing parents, and explaining some of the work which has been done such as social studies projects and art work.

Trip Booklet Assembled

A booklet describing interesting trips for classes in the near area was distributed to members of the faculty Wednesday. Compiled by members of the Parent Faculty Organization, the booklet tells of exact locations, what may be seen, and advance arrangements to be made by the teacher.

A ceramic studio where the entire ceramic process on a small scale may be seen; Mrs. fruit and chicken farms whose owners will explain their operation; banks and other local businesses which show how community and even outside needs are filled here in New Paltz, are included in the booklet.

Lead by Mrs. Keith Smiley, chairman, the committee consists of Mrs. David Corwin, Mrs. Sidney Haas, Mrs. John Jacobson, Mrs. Gerow Smiley and Miss Jane Stafford, faculty advisor. They plan to add descriptions of other available trips to the booklet from time to time.

Poison Ivy Control

Mrs. Henry Barg, chairman of the Health and Safety Committee of the Parent Faculty Organization, and Mrs. Robert Clarkson, next year's chairman, have agreed to try to sponsor a poison ivy control drive in the village this year. They will need the help of many parents.

All-Kindergarten Picnic

The final spree of the year for kindergartners and their families will take place June 3. A picnic to which all members of the family are invited will be held at the Rod and Gun Club at 5:30 p. m. Each family is asked to bring a picnic supper. Lemonade will be served.

After supper, a brief meeting will be held to enable Dr. George Thomas to discuss with the parents some of the problems accompanying the division of the present kindergarten children into groups for the village and campus schools. During the meeting games and other activities will be arranged for the children.

Communication Studied

A student of Miss Gloria Sorrentino's seventh grade has contributed this summary of a study of communication mediums recently completed by the groups:

Miss Sorrentino's seventh grade has completed an all-round study of newspapers, comics, movies, radio and television. The object of this study was to see how these different ways of communication influenced children as well as adults.

In the study of the newspaper, each child was given a copy of The Herald Tribune. The children analyzed it to see what a newspaper is composed of.

The study of the comic books was done in much the same manner. A group of two or three boys and girls was given a special type of comic book to analyze. On large pieces of paper went modeled and newly furnished with titles such as, "Slang," "Verbs," "Contractions" and a few others. Under these titles the children put words particular to that title, found in their comic books.

The study of radio, movies and television was much alike. With movies, the group studied sound tracks, two and three dimensional and last of all, animated cartoons.

Village Notes

New Paltz, May 23—Miss Nancy Bollen had her tonsils removed Wednesday morning, May 20, at Vassar Brothers Hospital. Nicholas Kursten is a patient at Kingston Hospital where he recently underwent surgery.

Mr. and Mrs. James Edwards are the parents of a son born last week in El Paso, Tex. Mrs. Edwards is the former Ella May McElree of New Paltz. This is their second son.

The former Gardiner Home on Main street has been purchased by Mr. Ackerman of Clintondale. This property is being remodeled and will offer additional business space for New Paltz as well as provide more apartments. Extensive renovation and enlargement is being done. This is a definite improvement for the main thoroughfare of the village. It is two buildings east of the Huguenot Bank.

There is some talk that the Chamber of Commerce will seek to get some off-the-street parking space near the center of the main shopping district. The space being considered is to the rear of the block on Main street from North Front to Church and in the triangle formed by Church, North Front and Main. This would be a desirable spot due to its location. For people who have to park longer than an hour the convenience would be excellent.

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Ross attended Parents Day at Princeton University May 16. This was the fifth annual Freshman Parents' Day. Ernest Ross is a member of the freshman class. A full schedule of activities was planned for the visitors. An opportunity to consult with each student's faculty advisor was planned and a reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Harold Dodds climaxed the day.

Still Far Apart

Hartford, Conn., May 23 (AP)—Gov. John Lodge and Republican members of the Legislature's Finance Committee continue far apart on a state tax program today with a partial showdown on the matter due Monday. While the governor and his party members reassessed their stands on the two tax programs yesterday, Democratic activity was waned for introduce Monday another tax measure which is similar to Lodge's. Lodge, in a television talk, again said he thought the finance committee's 42 million dollar new tax program was favorable to corporations at the expense of the average taxpayer.

Would Support Request

Taipei, Formosa, May 23 (AP)—Nationalist China said tonight it will give full support to Thailand's projected request to the United Nations to investigate the Communist threat stemming from the Vietnam invasion of Laos. A foreign office spokesman said the Nationalist government is "much concerned about the outlook for security in Thailand" because of close friendship between Thailand and Nationalist China.

New Funeral Home On Albany Avenue

FRANK H. SIMPSON

A new funeral home to be operated by Frank H. Simpson at 411 Albany avenue will be open for public inspection between the hours of 2 and 10 p. m., Sunday, May 24.

The modern funeral home which features the latest techniques in the business was built on property purchased last September.

The interior of the former Adler property has been entirely remodeled and newly furnished with the aim of making it both attractive and comfortable in its general atmosphere.

The home consists of a large reception hall, two chapels, a private office, selection room and preparation room, with the family living quarters located on the second floor.

Extensive landscaping and tree removing made possible a large parking area with a front entrance on Albany avenue and a back entrance from Manor place.

Simpson will bring valuable World War 2 experience in plastic surgery and embalming to his new business. In 1942 he joined the USNR and served three and one-half years as a pharmacist's mate. Most of his service time was spent in the South Pacific area.

Upon his return to the United States, Simpson was assigned to the Brooklyn Naval Hospital where he was in charge of the care and shipment of deceased servicemen to their home states. While in the armed forces he received valuable training in the treatment of extreme surgery and plastic cases.

KHS Graduate

The new funeral director was graduated from Public School 5 in Kingston; also Kingston High and the Collier School of Embalming Technique, New York. He then took a special course in plastic surgery in connection with the Restorative Art program. He is a licensed New York state embalmer and undertaker.

After graduating from the Collier School of Embalming, he served his apprenticeship with the Thomas M. Quinn Sons, Inc. Funeral Homes of Long Island. After his discharge from service, Simpson returned to the Quinn establishments to further his experience and acquire his New York state license as an embalmer.

From Nov. 1948, to Feb. 1, 1951, when he was recalled to active duty by the navy, he was employed by the Henry J. Bruck Funeral Homes, serving as manager of their Rosendale branch.

Simpson is the son of Harvey E. and Jane DeGraff Simpson of 248 Clifton avenue. Fraternally he is associated with BPOE No. 550, Kingston Elks; Rosendale Grange, East Kingston Rod and Gun Club and the American Legion.

He is married to the former Julia Guido, RN, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Guido, formerly of East Kingston, now of 22 Van Gaasbeek street. Mrs. Simpson is a graduate of Kingston High School and the Benedictine School of Nursing. They have two children, Frank Jr., age 5, and Patricia Ann, age two and one half years.

Elders Supervised
Students' Gay Night

New Brunswick, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A gay night in New York by New Brunswick High School seniors last night was stamped with approval today by parents and school officials.

The elders had supervised the whole thing. It was an effort to halt a growing problem in recent years of unorganized excursions to night clubs after the senior prom.

As in many other schools, the prom in the high school gym was becoming simply a place to meet to start for somewhere else. The prom band was playing to a practically empty floor—and to chaperones who had been left behind.

So this year school officials, Parent Teacher Association and student leaders hatched this plan to satisfy young and old alike: The students stayed at the prom until it ended shortly before midnight.

Then they—and the chaperones—piled into a bus, chartered by the PTA and drove 35 miles to the Hotel Astor in New York for more dancing and partying.

They stayed there until the wee hours, then the buses took them to the Roger Smith Hotel in New Brunswick for breakfast. The kids got home about 6 a. m., local time.

Locusts to Appear Here

Ithaca, N. Y.—Many New Yorkers will get their first glimpse of the 17-year cicada (locust) when it appears in this state during the end of May and the first two weeks in June, Prof. R. W. Leiby, Cornell entomologist, said today. But the largest numbers of these insects will appear in the Hudson Valley and in Chautauqua, Monroe, and Tompkins counties, he pointed out.

Since millions of cicadas may appear in any locality their song will be almost deafening. Only the males do the singing, for they have a set of muscles that vibrate two small drumlike organs on the underside of the body. This singing caused a poet to say, "Happy are the cicadas lives for they all have voiceless wives."

"Millions of young cicadas emerge from the soil in woodlots, climb onto trees and shed their skins to become adults. These linger near the area about four weeks before they die, but during this period considerable damage can be done from their egg laying," the entomologist reported. "The females lay their eggs under the bark of trees, particularly young apple trees. Unfortunately, no effective preventive measures are known since the last cycle of Brood 10 appeared before the days of modern insecticides."

The eggs hatch in about five weeks and the young cicadas crawl into the soil. Although they remain underground for 17 years, feeding on sap from the roots of trees, they don't do any noticeable damage, Leiby said.

Meeting Is Slated Monday to Help Ulster Farmers

All Ulster county farmers are eligible to attend a meeting May 25 with representatives of the Farmers Home Administration, Soil Conservation Service, Extension Service and Forest Service at which recommendations for the 1954 Agricultural Conservation Program for county farms will be developed. It was announced today by John S. Geary, chairman of the county Production and Marketing Administration Committee.

The meeting will be held at the court house in Kingston at 7:30 p. m.

Geary announced that the primary objective of the 1954 program is to provide assistance needed for enduring or permanent type soil and water conservation projects that contribute to the accomplishment of the basic conservation objective of the Department of Agriculture: "the use of each acre of agricultural land within the capabilities and the treatment of each acre in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement."

Will Ask Ruling

Washington, May 23 (AP)—The Supreme Court will be asked to decide a rate regulating question potentially affecting users of natural gas throughout a large part of the country. The question is whether the Federal Power Commission (FPC) has legal authority to regulate the interstate sale price charged by a company that produces and gathers natural gas.

The U. S. Court of Appeals in a 2-1 decision yesterday said FPC should regulate the rates charged by Phillips Petroleum Co., which sells to interstate pipeline companies the gas it gathers from wells in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

Fellowships Announced

Ithaca, May 23 (AP)—Cornell University announced today the award of 22 new fellowships, granting from $1,300 to $2,500 a year, for graduating students. The awards were established, the university said, because of what it termed a great need for training scientists and scholars for future public service. Among those granted "junior fellowships" which grant $1,000, plus tuition, were John Comings of Tarrytown, and Lawrence Richard of Warnerville.

Driver Gets Prison Term

Belvidere, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A 21-year-old Scranton, Pa., truck driver—whose vehicle was involved in a crash that killed 10 members of one family—has received a two-to-three-year prison term. The crash, which occurred March 20, killed Clarence Matlock, a dairy farmer; his wife, five children, two sisters and mother. Matlock's car collided with Seagrano's truck on a two-lane highway in nearby Washington township.

Memorial Services Planned for Hurley

Memorial services will be held at the Honor Roll in Hurley at 10:30 a. m., Saturday, May 30, at which time Frederic Snyder, well-known lecturer, will speak. The service is being sponsored by the Hurley Grange. In case of rain the services will be held in the Hurley Town Hall.

Mohican Sends Cake to Queen

Helen Dishington, TWA hostess, accepts from T. W. Dewart, president of The Mohican Stores, Inc., a large coronation cake for Queen Elizabeth. This cake weighs over 125 pounds and will be flown direct from International Airport, N. Y., to London, England, by Trans-World Airlines.

A replica of this cake will be on display at the local Mohican Market, 57 John street. Vincent F. Bruck, manager, said the dates for the display will be announced. It is planned to bake two large cakes, one of which will be cut as samples for the customers, Bruck said.

The coronation cake was hand made by Jack Gowans, a Mohican master baker from Middletown, Conn. The cake is beautifully decorated with roses, thistle, shamrocks and leeks, representing England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

Marion and Sally School of Dance Benefit Revue for Polio Drive Scheduled Next Week

The complete program for the March of Dimes benefit revue scheduled May 26 and 27 at the George Washington School, was announced today.

The revue has been planned by the Marion and Sally School of Dance. Both evening performances will begin at 8:15 o'clock.

Technique in Color is the title of the revue which will feature pupils of the school in novelty routines and scenes.

Despite the fact that the 1933 polio drive has been completed, the school operators, Mrs. Marion Obenaus Swarthout and Mrs. Sally Oaks Schmidt said they planned to stage the revue for a cause they think is the most worthy.

Tickets are now in the hands of children of the Marion and Sally School of Dance.

The revue will be presented in four scenes including Singing in the Rain, An American in Paris, Oriental Splendor and West Point Story.

The program as announced follows:
(Singing in the Rain)
Singing in the Rain, intermediate tap, chorus and vocal solo; Under the Umbrella, a beginner's tap; Acrobatic Baton, Dancing in the Rain, baby's tap; Pretty Baby, beginners tap; Our Tiny Shine Boy, baby tap; Stumbling, beginner's acrobatic; Two Parasols, tap variations; intermediate tap; song and dance, beginner's tap; song and Tangerine, song and dance.

An American in Paris

OBVIOUSLY FEARFUL OF BEING CHEATED

A young woman asks me if I would please give my opinion of the following: "Whenever my fiancé and I go out to a restaurant or night club and the check is presented to him, he always checks and re-checks the bill while the waiter stands waiting to be paid. This is most embarrassing to me and I do not think it is proper behavior."

It is certainly not incorrect to glance at the items on the bill to see what they are. If he fusses over it and adds slowly, it could become very embarrassing!

Seating at Company Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: The company that I work for is giving a dinner in honor of one of our executives who is being transferred to another city. The group invited to the dinner consists of office and supervisory personnel and their husbands and wives. I am in charge of the seating arrangement and it has been suggested that husbands and wives be separated. I do not think this is proper at a dinner of this kind since the wives and husbands are strangers. The group will consist of about fifty persons and the table will be arranged in a U shape. I would appreciate your help in this matter.

Answer: I myself have never been at a dinner at which husbands and wives were seated together. When a guest is seated between two strangers, the proper thing to do is to show her (or his) dinner card to the two persons on either side which is a proper introduction.

Ornamental or Utilitarian?

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in bad taste to have empty vases displayed in the living room?

Answer: There are vases and vases. If they are merely flower containers that have no decorative value, then they are kept in the closet until filled with flowers. But vases that in themselves have ornamental beauty may certainly be used without—as well as with—flowers.

Is it proper to telephone invitations? This is one of the 35 questions most frequently asked and answered for you in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-18. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. ## Southern District Federation of Home Bureaus Convenes at Williams Lake; Over 500 Attend

The first annual meeting of the Southern District Federation of Home Bureaus was held at Williams Lake Hotel in Rosendale on Wednesday, May 20. Over 500 people attended the meeting from the seven counties of the Southern district. The total attendance for the meeting was as high as it was for the 18 counties before the district was divided.

Mrs. John Carr Duff, chairman of the district from Garden City, presided at the morning session, and Mrs. W. Harrison Wheeler, vice-chairman, Orange county, presided at the afternoon session.

Women's Work in Australia
Dr. Joan Tully, extension officer, New South Wales Department of Agriculture, was the main speaker. Her topic was Women's Work in Australia. Dr. Tully accompanied her interesting talk with the showing of slides on Australia which gave those present an idea of the type of homes and agriculture carried on in her country. She compared the extension service of this state, having hundreds of Home Economics trained people, with that of hers, where there is only one Home Economics extension worker.

Mrs. William Douglas, Ulster County Home Bureau executive committee chairman, welcomed those present and introduced the chairman of the hostess committee who helped plan the meeting.

They were Mrs. William Powers of Kingston, general chairman; Mrs. Hilda Lamphere, committee coordinator; Mrs. Ernest Mver, chairman of communications; Mrs. Casper Gunther, chairman of meeting place; Miss Theresa Kessel, chairman of program; Mrs. Alton Dietz and Mrs. William McNamee, chairmen of hostesses; and Mrs. Frank Coy, flowers.

Mrs. Louis Zipperman of Ellenville, was soloist accompanied by Mrs. Allen Potter also of Ellenville.

Delegates from Seven Counties
Delegates from Dutchess, Nassau, Orange, Rockland, Suffolk, Ulster and Westchester gave two minute reports of some of their accomplishments. Mrs. Wilbur Van Wyck of Wallkill was delegate for Ulster county. The county had an exhibit of decorative stitchery articles, hooked mats and rugs, smoking, aluminum trays, huck towel bags made by members; Westchester, an exhibit of pressing equipment; Nassau, an exhibit of new fabrics; Orange, an exhibit of decorative stitchery and Suffolk, an exhibit of different kinds of cushions for chairs.

Group singing was enjoyed by the group, led by Mrs. William Powers.

Fred DuBois of New Paltz, president of the Ulster County Farm and Home Bureau and 4-H Club Association, brought a message from the association and welcomed those present to the county.

Mrs. Homer Day, president of the New York State Federation of Home Bureaus, brought greetings to the group. Miss Frances Scudder, state leader of Home Demonstration Agents, gave an inspirational talk.

Scholarship Fund Over $15,000
Miss Blanche Kelsey, the state vice chairman, gave a state membership report.

State committee reports were given. Mrs. Robert Gerster of Westchester county reported that every unit in every county in the Southern District contributed to the scholarship fund this year. The amount was over $15,000.

Mrs. Raymond Ackery of Orange county, state chairman of the international hospitality committee, and Mrs. Elliott Dickerson of Suffolk, chairman for the district, reported on the work of the committee. A Pennies for Friendship collection was taken and over $40 contributed. This will go toward entertaining women from other countries who are attending the Associated Country Women of the World meeting to be held in August, in Canada.

Officers Elected
Officers for next year were elected: Mrs. John Carr Duff, chairman, of Garden City; Mrs. Raymond Ayers, vice chairman, of Ossining, who succeeds Mrs. W. Harrison Wheeler of Florida; and Mrs. William Powers, secretary-treasurer, of Kingston, who succeeds Mrs. Raymond Ayers who was formerly holding the office.

The annual mother-daughter-friend banquet of the Business and Professional Women's Club of the YWCA was attended by about 70 persons on Wednesday evening at the Y.

The table decorations and favors were appropriate for May Day. Following the dinner, Mrs. Dorothea Flick, soprano, sang a number of solos. She was accompanied by Miss Nancy Thayer. A group of violin solos were presented by Harold G. Berchin who was accompanied at the piano by DeCosta Dawson. Interesting slides of pictures taken during a tour of Europe last summer were shown by Miss Sally Gallagher.

The regular supper meeting of the club will take place at 6 p. m. on Wednesday, May 27. Mrs. Charlotte A. Peck, Cerebral Palsy Clinic, will be the guest speaker and will show a motion picture film.

Members are asked to make reservations for the supper no later than Monday, May 25.

Mohican Sends Cake to Queen

Helen Dishington, TWA hostess, accepts from T. W. Dewart, president of The Mohican Stores, Inc., a large coronation cake for Queen Elizabeth. This cake weighs over 125 pounds and will be flown direct from International Airport, N. Y., to London, England, by Trans-World Airlines.

A replica of this cake will be on display at the local Mohican Market, 57 John street. Vincent F. Bruck, manager, said the dates for the display will be announced. It is planned to bake two large cakes, one of which will be cut as samples for the customers, Bruck said.

The coronation cake was hand made by Jack Gowans, a Mohican master baker from Middletown, Conn. The cake is beautifully decorated with roses, thistle, shamrocks and leeks, representing England, Scotland, Ireland and Wales.

Marion and Sally School of Dance Benefit Revue for Polio Drive Scheduled Next Week

The complete program for the March of Dimes benefit revue scheduled May 26 and 27 at the George Washington School, was announced today.

The revue has been planned by the Marion and Sally School of Dance. Both evening performances will begin at 8:15 o'clock. Technique in Color is the title of the revue which will feature pupils of the school in novelty routines and scenes.

Despite the fact that the 1953 polio drive has been completed, the school operators, Mrs. Marion Obenaus Swarthout and Mrs. Sally Oaks Schmidt said they planned to stage the revue for a cause they think is the most worthy.

Tickets are now in the hands of children of the Marion and Sally School of Dance.

The revue will be presented in four scenes including Singing in the Rain, An American in Paris, Oriental Splendor and West Point Story.

The program as announced follows: (Singing in the Rain) Singing in the Rain, intermediate chorus and vocal solo; Under the Umbrella, a beginner's tap; Acrobatic Baton, Dancing in the Rain, baby's tap; Pretty Baby, beginners tap; Our Tiny Shine Boy, baby tap; Stumbling, beginner's acrobatic; Two Parasols, tap variations, intermediate tap; song and dance, beginner's tap and Tangerine, song and dance.

By GAILE DUGAS NEA Woman's Editor Dallas — (NEA) — Cotton gleams in the summer collections of Dallas designers. It has been polished up to shine like your best silver tea set and sometimes has the added sparkle that comes from rhinestones.

For warm weather wear, the miracle fibers are used in combination with cotton, rather than alone. Designers feel that cottons with new finishes are better suited to days when the sun beats dry after laundering. Never wring straw cloth. Coordinated broadcloth separates (left) by Gay's Originals are button-detailed. Back is opened up for coolness, buttoned high at the neckline. Button is repeated at waistline of the skirt. Pima cotton and orlon are combined in this sleeveless dress (right) by Nardis of Dallas. White beading embroidery gives a chalky touch to collar and belt; unpressed pleats are used for skirt fullness.

GOOD TASTE TODAY

By EMILY POST
(Author of Etiquette, Children Are People, etc.)

OBVIOUSLY FEARFUL OF BEING CHEATED

A young woman asks me if I would please give my opinion of the following: "Whenever my fiancé and I go out to a restaurant or night club and the check is presented to him, he always checks and re-checks the bill while the waiter stands waiting to be paid. This is most embarrassing to me and I do not think it is proper behavior."

It is certainly not incorrect to glance at the items on the bill to see what they are. If he fusses over it and adds slowly, it could become very embarrassing!

Seating at Company Dinner

Dear Mrs. Post: The company that I work for is giving a dinner in honor of one of our executives who is being transferred to another city. The group invited to the dinner consists of office and supervisory personnel and their husbands and wives. I am in charge of the seating arrangement and it has been suggested that husbands and wives be separated. I do not think this is proper at a dinner of this kind since the wives and husbands are strangers. The group will consist of about fifty persons and the table will be arranged in a U shape. I would appreciate your help in this matter.

Answer: I myself have never been at a dinner at which husbands and wives were seated together. When a guest is seated between two strangers, the proper thing to do is to show her (or his) dinner card to the two persons on either side which is a proper introduction.

Ornamental or Utilitarian?

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it in bad taste to have empty vases displayed in the living room? Answer: There are vases and vases. If they are merely flower containers that have no decorative value, then they are kept in the closet until filled with flowers. But vases that in themselves have ornamental beauty may certainly be used without—as well as with—flowers.

Is it proper to telephone invitations? This is one of the 35 questions most frequently asked and answered for you in Mrs. Post's leaflet E-18. Mrs. Post is sorry she cannot answer personal mail. To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin to her, c/o The Kingston Daily Freeman, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Jayvees Rally in Late Innings to Beat Oteora Central, 10-6

Bob Maines Hurls 7-Hitter, Fans 13 For Repeat Win

Maroons Club 11 Hits; Also Steal 11 Bases

The KHS Jayvees combined 11 hits with seven walks and 11 stolen bases to defeat Oteora Central, 10-6, yesterday on the Phenicia diamond.

Bob Maines checked the Indians with seven hits and fanned 13 but four of the Oteora safeties were solid doubles and at the end of four innings Coach Al Gruner's charges found themselves trailing, 6-4.

A pair of markers in the sixth sent Kingston ahead 7-6 and the Maroons picked up three insurance safeties in the seventh. Maines subdued the Oteora doublets and breezed through the last three innings.

Jackson Paces Hitters

Fred Jackson unloaded a double and triple for Kingston, while Frank Turk, and Hilton had two apiece. Nerone rapped three singles in five trips.

Automatic steals cropped up almost every time a Kingston runner reached first base. The result was that Nerone and Turk pilfered three apiece. Culjak, Maines had two and Jackson was credited with the other theft.

Foster had two singles for the Indians who had their ace, Ollie Crawford, go all the way.

Porterfield's Formula Clicking in Merry May

Four Straight for Ex-Yankee Hurler

By BEN PHLEGAR
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

After five lean years Bob Porterfield of the Washington Senators is suddenly discovering why they call it the "merry" month of May.

The well-built righthander is ready to agree that this year at least it's a wonderful month—filled with runs by his teammates and victories for himself.

Both runs and victories are a little strange to Porterfield, whose name has been a synonym for bad luck ever since the Virginian broke into the majors with the New York Yankees in 1948.

For four seasons he was plagued by all kinds of injuries, from a broken finger to burns from an exploding match book. Last year he specialized in being on the wrong end of shutouts—seven times he pitched full games without the Senators scoring a single run for him.

This season started just like the others—bad—he lost his first three starts. Suddenly, the week that May began, he won a game. He's pitched four times since then and he's won four more games.

Beat Old Mates
Yesterday's 12-4 victory was a particularly sweet one for Porterfield since it came against the Yankees who had given up on him to such an extent that in 1951 they traded two other pitchers with him and tossed in $50,000 cash to get Bob Kuzava.

For a change Bob's teammates got him a whole haul of runs, the most scored against the Yanks this season. The 18-hit attack was high for the Senators this year.

Until they ran into Porterfield the Yanks had won four in a row. The loss cost them a full game of their American League lead, which now stands at 2½ games, since the Boston Red Sox won a doubleheader from Philadelphia and took over second place.

The Red Sox won the first game, 3-2, with a pair of runs in the eighth and picked up the second game by the same score in 12 innings.

Art Houtteman allowed only two hits as the Detroit Tigers handed the Chicago White Sox their fourth straight loss, 7-0. St. Louis at Cleveland was rained out.

Maroons Club 11 Hits;
Also Steal 11 Bases

The KHS Jayvees combined 11 hits with seven walks and 11 stolen bases to defeat Oteora Central, 10-6, yesterday on the Phoenicia diamond.

Bob Maines checked the Indians with seven hits and fanned 13 but four of the Oteora safeties were solid doubles and at the end of four inning Coach Al Gruner's charges found themselves trailing, 6-4.

A pair of markers in the sixth sent Kingston ahead 7-6 and the Maroons picked up three insurance safeties in the seventh. Maines subbed the Oteora doublet and breezed through the last three innings.

Jackson Paces Hitters
Fred Jackson unloaded a double and triple for Kingston, while Frank Turk, and Hilton had two apiece. Nerone rapped three singles in five trips.

Automatic steals cropped up almost every time a Kingston runner reached first base. The result was that Nerone and Turk pilfered three apiece. Culjak, Maines had two and Jackson was credited with the other theft.

Foster had two singles for the Indians who had their ace, Ollie Crawford, go all the way.

Manhattan Balls, Alpines in Tie For Classic Title

Manhattan Bowling Balls and the Alpine have finished in a tie for the Woman's Classic League pennant and will roll off for the title on Wednesday, May 27, at 7 p. m. at the Bowlodrome.

The tie was effected in last night's final firing when Rose Schatzel powered Manhattan Balls to a rousing 2575 series for a crucial 2-1 triumph over Kaye Sportswear.

Alpines salvaged a tie by taking the third set from State Diner, Kaye Sportswear finished a game behind the leaders.

Fires 223 Solo

Mrs. Schatzel opened with 167 and closed with 219, 223 in the clutch match with Kayes. Ada Markie topped 204-551 for runner-up honors and Rita La Rocca bashed 223-537.

Other high shooters were Doris Prendergast 216-527; Beverly Port 525, Emma Pratt 512, Charlotte Lapine 490, Mary Wyant 482, Betty Bailey 468, Mathilde Bruck 463.

Meadow Rice Streak Ends at 12 Straight

Yonkers, May 23 (P)—Meadow Rice's victory streak of 12 came to an end last night in the $7,500 free for all pace at Yonkers Raceway as the veteran Thomas B. Scott scored a head victory over Hi Lo's Forbes. Meadow Rice, winner of the Little Brown Jug last year, was third.

Thomas B. Scott was driven by its owner, Thomas B. Carlock, to a 2:02 mile, fastest of the year. Thomas B. Scott took the lead at the half mile and led by a length coming into the stretch. Hi Lo's Forbes came up from fifth place with a strong bid that just missed. Meadow Rice made a drive 100 yards from the wire but was not good enough. The winner returned $12.70 for $2.

Eleanor Singer Named Women's Major Prexy

Eleanor Singer has been elected president of the Women's Major League for the 1953-54 season.

Other officers named at the election meeting this week were: Fannie Battagino, vice-president; Ada Markie, secretary; Nellie Alverson, treasurer; and Winifred Overfield, sergeant-at-arms.

Heafner's 140 Leads Colonial

Fort Worth, Tex., May 23 (P)—Clayton Heafner, with the build of a truck driver but the touch of a pianist, led the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament into its third round today with a 36-hole total of 140.

The occasional tournament player from Charlotte, N. C., laid down a four-under-par 66 over the rough 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course yesterday to snatch the top rung and boast a three-stroke lead over Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif.

Barber came from almost nowhere to second place with a 69 to make his total 143. Tommy Bolt, the Maplewood, N. J., veteran noted for his club-throwing, shot a horrendous 81—the highest score of the day as compared to his 67, the lowest of the first day—and became the darling of the club manufacturers.

Just how many clubs Bolt broke and threw was a matter for debate but one man who followed him said he saw him throw his putter on No. 12, his driver on No. 14, and break his four-iron against a tree on No. 15, on No. 9 he was rather mild—he just pitched his ball into the creek.

Bolt's 145 threw him into a tie for twenty-second place.

Disbrow Target AtRhinebeckTrack

Rhinebeck Speedway features Stan Disbrow, winner of two feature events, in the weekly 30-lap headliner tonight.

Doug Benjamin, the Peekskill Flyer, is rated top threat to Disbrow. Other ace drivers entered are Nels Secor, Rebel Harris, Bob Harris, Hal McCarty and others.

The Race of Doom returns for a repeat with such "doomdogs" as Wally Van Benschoten, Flash Hoffman, Duke Washburn and Jim Creighton entered.

Tonight's program is the last race of the sprint series before the spring championships on May 30, a 100-lap feature expected to attract the finest drivers along the eastern seaboard.

Pastor Gets Eight Years

Berlin, May 23 (P)—Protestant pastor Herbert Bohnke was sentenced to eight years imprisonment by a Soviet zone district court at Kottbus, the American radio station RIAS reported today. The churchman was charged with keeping "inflammatory" pamphlets at his home and with having read a pastoral letter by Bishop Otto Dibelius from the pulpit. Bishop Dibelius is the spiritual leader of 40 million Protestants in East and West Germany.

Calls on Churchill

London, May 22 (P)—U. S. Ambassador Winthrop Aldrich visited Prime Minister Churchill today. Purpose of the call was not announced but it was thought details of the forthcoming Bermuda conference of President Eisenhower, Churchill and the French premier were discussed.

Gold Theft Reported

New York, May 22 (P)—Theft of six bars of gold bullion worth $27,000 from a cargo hangar at Idlewild Airport was revealed today by Port of New York Authority police. Thirteen other bars of gold and 116 bars of silver—all part of the same shipment—were not disturbed.

Irwin Is Unchanged

The condition of Roscoe V. Irwin, former Kingston mayor, who was taken suddenly ill at Main and Fair streets several days ago, was reported "unchanged" today at Benedictine Hospital. He was said to be "fairly comfortable." Irwin's condition was reported yesterday by the hospital to be "fair."

To Decorate Graves

Members of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus are asked to meet at the K of C Home on Sunday, May 24 at 11 a. m., so that they may visit and decorate the graves of the departed Knights. It is hoped that as many as possible will turn out for this important function.

Stowaway Foxes

Elmhurst, Ill. (P)—A truck driver, checking his trailer following a coffee stop, peered into one of the large oil pipes in his cargo. Sixteen small bright eyes peered back. Investigation uncovered a stowaway litter of baby fox. Cafe proprietor Jack Collins adopted the animals.

Fined $50 for Begging

Newark, N. J., May 23 (P)—A 49-year-old Long Island man has been fined $50 because he allegedly begged for money while distributing religious pamphlets. The man, Saul Grobney, of Floral Park, N. Y., admitted in court that he distributed the pamphlets, but said he couldn't help it if people gave him money at the same time. So he pleaded innocent. Magistrate Harry Pine fined him anyway. Grobney was arrested Thursday as he sat in the middle of the sidewalk on busy Market street. Police said he wore a brace on his left leg and had a crutch nearby, although he walked around in police headquarters without it.

charged last night with homicide in connection with the death at the hospital Tuesday of a newborn child alleged to be hers. Detective Dan Fisher said the infant's body was found half submerged in water in one of the hospital's washrooms. It had evidently been delivered there with no assistance to the mother, he said. Miss Spahn was taken into custody at her home late yesterday afternoon and, when it was learned she had had no post-delivery medical care, was placed in the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital after being booked.

Prisoner Is Captured

Marquette, Mich., May 23 (P)—One of seven desperadoes who fled Michigan's maximum-security prison here was back behind bars today, less than 24 hours after he broke out. What is more, he was captured by a civilian who merely thrust his hands in his pockets as if he had a gun. He didn't. Back was Lloyd Burdurf, 61, a life-terminer. Jack Messenger, 48, a school bus driver, spotted him near Marquette's city dump last night and made the capture.

• You might have witnessed this scene with your own eyes. And you, too, might have reacted in the same way — "Jehosophat! Will the kid be okay?"

But even though you were right at the spot, chances are that you had to turn to a newspaper to get the whole story.

Then, for the first time, you'd learn that the child's leg was caught in a water pipe... that firemen cut the pipe first, and then removed it after greasing the child's leg. You'd know that the kid did come out okay.

Being on the spot is not much better than seeing a photograph of the action, or a headline about it, or hearing a brief announcement.

All of these can whet your appetite for news, but they cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

That's what the newspaper is for. Newspapers bring news—pictures and sufficient words.

This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air... or brief headlines here or there... may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocketbook.

And just as the newspaper speaks the special language of the town it mirrors, the ads themselves have the same important local quality.

Add to all this the fact that the newspaper reaches just about everybody in town, not just fractions of audiences, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most effective advertising medium.

No wonder advertisers—both retail and national—invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

Extend Qualify Play for Cup

The qualifying round for the annual President's Cup competition has been extended to May 30, president, Floyd W. Flint said today.

Several other changes in the original calendar have been made. A member-member tournament for 36 holes, best ball, with three-quarters handicap has been set up for July 6 to July 19.

The club championship qualifying round is scheduled July 27 to August 9. The remainder of the championship setup follows: First round—Aug. 10-16. Second round—Aug. 17-23. Third round—Aug. 24-30. Fourth round—Sept. 1-Sept. 6. First round of the annual Calcutta tournament is scheduled Sept. 14 to Sept. 20. The second round starts Sept. 21 and concludes on Sept. 27.

Meadow Rice Streak Ends at 12 Straight

Yonkers, May 23 (AP)—Meadow Rice's victory streak of 12 came to an end last night in the $7,500 free for all pace at Yonkers Raceway as the veteran Thomas B. Scott scored a head victory over Hi Lo's Forbes. Meadow Rice, winner of the Little Brown Jug last year, was third.

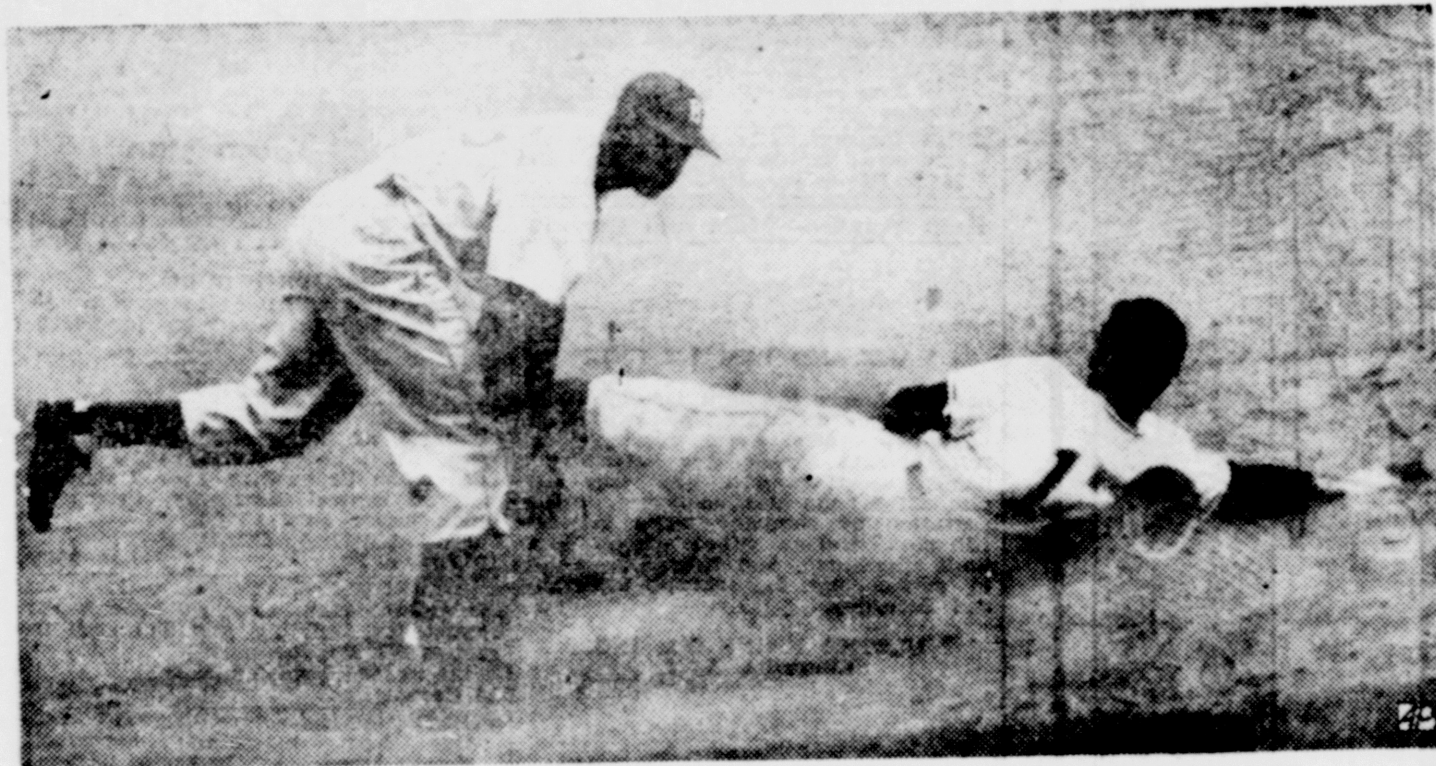

Thomas B. Scott was driven by its owner, Thomas B. Carlock, to a 2:02 mile, fastest of the year. Thomas B. Scott took the lead at the half mile and led by a length coming into the stretch. Hi Lo's Forbes came up from fifth place with a strong bid that just missed. Meadow Rice made a drive 100 yards from the wire but was not good enough. The winner returned $12.70 for $2.

Eleanor Singer Named Women's Major Prexy

Eleanor Singer has been elected president of the Women's Major League for the 1953-54 season.

Other officers named at the election meeting this week were: Fannie Battaglini, vice-president; Ada Markle, secretary; Nellie Alverson, treasurer; and Winifred Overfield, sergeant-at-arms.

Tookie Beats Hat but Not Throw

Giants' first baseman Tookie Gilbert loses his cap as he is forced at second as the first half of a second inning double play at the Polo Grounds, May 22. Dodger second sacker Junior Gilliam fires the ball to first in time to get Bobby Thomson whose grounder to Dodger shortstop Peeewe Reese started the play.

Heafner's 140 Leads Colonial

Fort Worth, Tex., May 23 (AP)—

Clayton Heafner, with the build of a truck driver but the touch of a pianist, led the $25,000 Colonial National Invitation golf tournament into its third round today with a 36-hole total of 140.

The occasional tournament player from Charlotte, N. C., laid down a four-under-par 66 over the rough 7,035-yard Colonial Country Club course yesterday to snatch the top rung and beat a three-stroke lead over Jerry Barber of La Canada, Calif.

Barber came from almost nowhere to second place with a 69 to make his total 143.

Tommy Bolt, the Maplewood, N. J., veteran noted for his club-throwing, shot a horrendous 81, the highest score of the day as compared to his 67, the lowest of the first day—and became the darling of the club manufacturers.

Just how many clubs Bolt broke and threw was a matter for debate but one man who followed him said he saw him throw his putter on No. 12, his driver on No. 14, and break his four-iron against a tree on No. 15, on No. 9 he was rather mild—he just pitched his ball into the creek.

Bolt's 145 threw him into a tie for twenty-second place.

Disbrow Target At Rhinebeck Track

Rhinebeck Speedway features Stan Disbrow, winner of two feature events, in the weekly 30-lap headliner tonight.

Doug Benjamin, the Peekskill Flyer, is rated top threat to Disbrow. Other ace drivers entered are Nels Secor, Rebel Harris, Bob Harris, Hal McCarty and others.

The Race of Doom returns for a repeat with such "doomdogs" as Wally Van Benschoten, Flash Hoffman, Duke Washburn and Jim Creighton entered.

Tonight's program is the last race of the sprint series before the spring championships on May 30, a 100-lap feature expected to attract the finest drivers along the eastern seaboard.

Found Alive

Beverly Ann Bradley, 2½ years old, missing two days and two nights in the upper Michigan bush country north of Menominee, was spotted by a Coast Guard helicopter in the woods a mile from her grandparents' cabin.

Irwin Is Unchanged

The condition of Roscoe V. Irwin, former Kingston mayor, who was taken suddenly ill at Main and Fair streets several days ago, was reported "unchanged" today at Benedictine Hospital. He was said to be "fairly comfortable."

To Decorate Graves

Members of Kingston Council, 275, Knights of Columbus are asked to meet at the K of C Home on Sunday, May 24 at 11 a. m., so that they may visit and decorate the graves of the departed Knights. It is hoped that as many as possible will turn out for this important function.

Stowaway Foxes

Effingham, Ill. (AP)—A truck driver, checking his trailer following a coffee stop, peered into one of the large oil pipes in his cargo. Sixteen small bright eyes peered back. Investigation uncovered a stowaway litter of baby fox. Cafe proprietor Jack Collins adopted the animals.

Fined $50 for Begging

Newark, N. J., May 23 (AP)—A 49-year-old Long Island man has been fined $50 because he allegedly begged for money while distributing religious pamphlets. The man, Saul Grobney, of Floral Park, N. Y., admitted in court that he distributed the pamphlets, but said he couldn't help it if people gave him money at the same time. So he pleaded innocent. Magistrate Harry Fine fined him anyway. Grobney was arrested Thursday as he sat in the middle of the sidewalk on busy Market street. Police said he wore a brace on his left leg and had a crutch nearby, although he walked around in police headquarters without it.

Blizzard Head Dies

Jersey City, N. J., May 23 (AP)—Joseph Van Rosencrance, president of the Blizzard Men of '88, died last night at Jersey City Medical Center. He was 82. Rosencrance, who was president of the blizzard organization during the last two years, weathered the 1888 blizzard in his home town, Port Jervis, N. Y. He was working as a postal clerk at the time. Later, he went to the University of Michigan where he graduated in 1895 and became a lawyer.

Charged With Death

New York, May 23 (AP)—Irma Spahn, 25, of Jamaica, Queens, a nurse at the Hospital for Special Surgery, 321 East 42nd street, was charged last night with homicide in connection with the death at the hospital Tuesday of a newborn child alleged to be hers. Detective Dan Fisher said the infant's body was found half submerged in water in one of the hospital's washrooms. It had evidently been delivered there with no assistance to the mother, he said. Miss Spahn was taken into custody at her home late yesterday afternoon and, when it was learned she had had no post-delivery medical care, was placed in the prison ward of Bellevue Hospital after being booked.

Prisoner Is Captured

Marquette, Mich., May 23 (AP)—One of seven desperadoes who fled Michigan's maximum-security prison here was back behind bars today, less than 24 hours after he broke out. What is more, he was captured by a civilian who merely thrust his hands in his pockets as if he had a gun. He didn't. Back was Lloyd Burdurf, 61, a life-terminer. Jack Messenger, 48, a school bus driver, spotted him near Marquette's city dump last night and made the capture.

• You might have witnessed this scene with your own eyes. And you, too, might have reacted in the same way — "Jehosaphat! Will the kid be okay?"

But even though you were right at the spot, chances are that you had to turn to a newspaper to get the whole story.

Then, for the first time, you'd learn that the child's leg was caught in a water pipe... that firemen cut the pipe first, and then removed it after greasing the child's leg. You'd know that the kid did come out okay.

Being on the spot is not much better than seeing a photograph of the action, or a headline about it, or hearing a brief announcement.

All of these can whet your appetite for news, but they cannot satisfy your hunger for the whole story.

That's what the newspaper is for. Newspapers bring news—pictures and sufficient words.

This goes for advertising, too. The brief message that hangs in the air... or brief headlines here or there... may indeed have a momentary interest.

But the newspaper ad carries the brass-tacks quality, the urgency of the newspaper itself.

Like a news item, the ad can be examined and re-examined. Can be read any time. Anywhere. Can be clipped and carried in a pocketbook.

And just as the newspaper speaks the special language of the town it mirrors, the ads themselves have the same important local quality.

Add to all this the fact that the newspaper reaches just about everybody in town, not just fractions of audiences, and you know why the newspaper is the nation's most effective advertising medium.

No wonder advertisers—both retail and national—invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising.

Extend Quality Play for Cup

The qualifying round for the annual President's Cup competition has been extended to May 30, president, Floyd W. Flint said today.

Several other changes in the original calendar have been made.

A member-member tournament for 36 holes, best ball, with three-quarters handicap has been set up for July 6 to July 19.

The club championship qualifying round is scheduled July 27 to August 9. The remainder of the championship setup follows:

First round—Aug. 10-16.

Second round—Aug. 17-23.

Third round—Aug. 24-30.

Fourth round—Sept. 1-Sept. 6.

First round of the annual Calcutta tournament is scheduled Sept. 14 to Sept. 20. The second round starts Sept. 21 and concludes on Sept. 27.

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

Appellate Court Upholds Dewey's Fiscal Program

New York, May 23 (P) - The city prepared today to carry its fight against Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's "fiscal package," including the creation of a transit authority, to the state's highest court.

The State Appellate Division yesterday upheld the constitutionality of Dewey's fiscal program for New York city. Shortly afterwards Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri announced that the fight would be taken to the State Court of Appeals at Albany.

Impellitteri said the city corporation counsel "will be ready to argue the case in Albany next week" with the court's permission.

No opinion was given by the Appellate Division yesterday as it handed up its unanimous decision. The city had argued that the legislation violated the city's right to home rule, State Supreme Court Justice Benjamin F. Schreiber, whose ruling was upheld by yesterday's court action, had said that there was no interference with the principle of home rule.

At the start, the case was a taxpayer's suit naming the city as a defendant. However, the city sided with the plaintiff and the state intervened to oppose both.

The legislation set a June 1 deadline for an agreement between the city and the authority for the transfer of transit lines.

Increases Are Voted For Labor, Welfare

Washington, May 23 (P) - The House rebelled yesterday against flushes made by its appropriations committee and voted to increase new appropriations for six agencies in the Labor and Welfare departments.

In the face of mounting sentiment for even further increases in allotments still to be considered, the committee won an agreement to defer more voting until next Monday and Tuesday.

The boosts ordered yesterday were comparatively small, amounting to $6,534,893 on a bill totaling almost two billion dollars. But they showed which way the wind was blowing and indicated the committee might suffer further reverses when some larger increases are proposed next week. The increases ordered by the House were for Howard University and Freedmen's Hospital, Negro institutions here; for land-grant colleges, for vocational education, for the Labor Department's Women's Bureau, and for the Bureau of Apprenticeship training.

Fruits and Vegetables for Summer

Pureeing fresh fruits or vegetables for summer meals? Use a food mill or food press made for this purpose, if you have it. If not, use a sieve supported by cross-wires so the wire mesh will be sturdy enough to take forcing and pressing.

NO opinion was given by the Appellate Division yesterday as it handed up its unanimous decision.
The city had argued that the legislation violated the city's right to home rule. State Supreme Court Justice Benjamin F. Schreiber, whose ruling was upheld by yesterday's court action, had said that there was no interference with the principle of home rule.
At the start, the case was a taxpayer's suit naming the city as a defendant. However, the city sided with the plaintiff and the state intervened to oppose both.
The legislation set a June 1 deadline for an agreement between the city and the authority for the transfer of transit lines.

Highland

Highland, May 23 — George Campbell, of the Social Security office, Kingston, was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Monday night. He talked on Social Security to the 33 members and guests present. The nominating committee reported on the officers for 1953-54 as David Murphy, president; first vice-president, John Andola; second vice-president, Frank Kedenburg; third vice-president, Anthony DeMare; secretary, Philip Messina; treasurer, Philip Bravata; lion tamer, Vincent Jesioneck; directors, Albert Roberts, William Gruner. The installation dinner will be June 6 at DiPrima's Hotel. The dinner committee includes Frank Mandy, John Mack, Albert Roberts, Peter Burdush. The paper drive for the Boy Scouts will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. from the school with Philip Bravata and Danny Canora in charge. Other guests were D. A. Coloni, Newburgh and Philip LaSusa, Highland.

Mrs. Albert Martin, Grand street, has been entertaining her niece from Chicago.

The Officer's Club of the Eastern Star met in the Masonic Temple Tuesday night with Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb, Mrs. Bertram Cotline, Mrs. Victor DeMare and Mrs. Ralph Dirk as hostesses. The Past Noble Grands Club of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge will meet Monday night with Mrs. Elton Tompkins.

Cathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erichsen underwent a tonsillectomy Monday at Kingston Hospital.

Mrs. Victor Salvatore entertained the Thursday foursome this week.

Miss Janet Smith returned to Washington Sunday after a few days spent with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jerome Pratt.

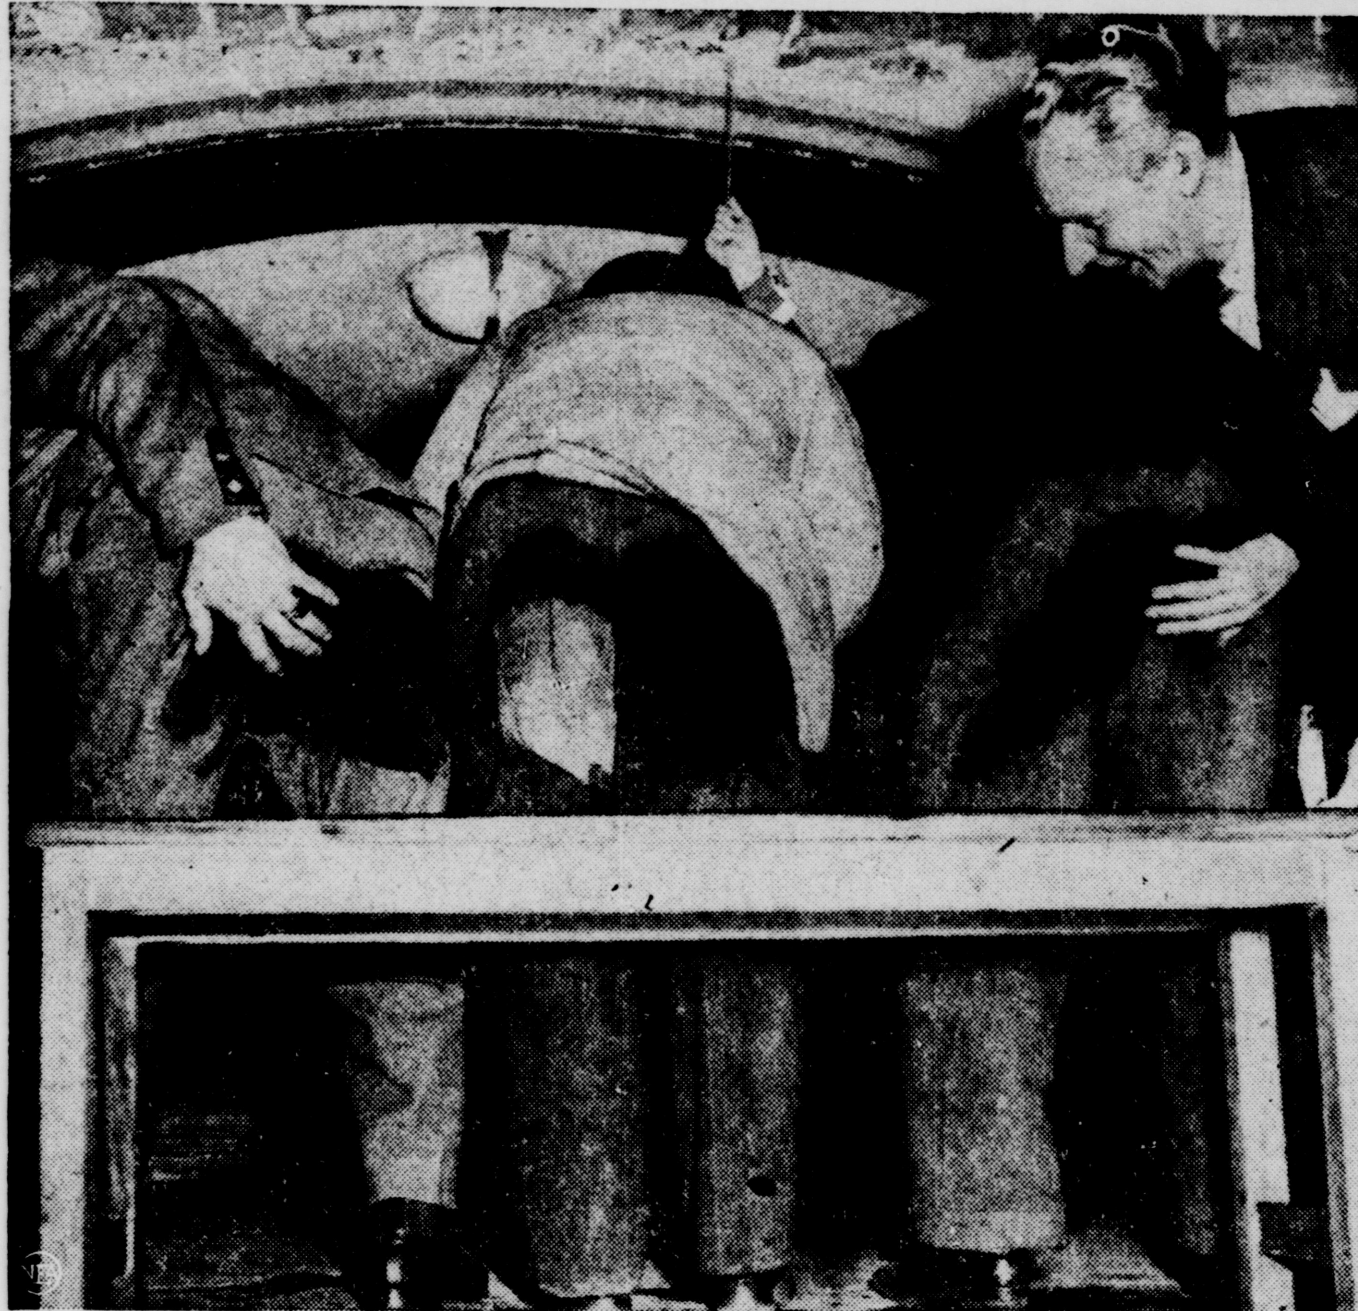

The Friday Bridge Club was entertained this week by Mrs. C. Imbrie Richards.

Ulster county Grange officers held an evening meeting in the Highland Grange hall Thursday, May 13.

Pursuant to the recommendations of the Citizen's Advisory Committee and the Division of School Buildings and Grounds of the State Education Department, the Board of Education of the Central school, at its meeting Tuesday evening, May 19, voted to recommend the purchase of the DiStasi site for an elementary building. This proposition will be presented to the qualified voters of the district at an early date.

The meeting of Highland Grange Tuesday night opened with the song of Peace. The members voted to enter a float in the Memorial Day parade with Mrs. Howard Schriber, Mrs. Mabel Kisor, and Mrs. Bertha Hasbrouck the committee. Howard Mackey gave a talk on Safety on the Highway. The paper written by Betty Romk on the subject of Safety had been sent to the state lecturer and the paper of Dorothy Hoffman of the Juvenile Grange had been accepted. Mrs. Charles Bell distributed literature on Safety and movies were shown with William Thompson running the machine. They were procured through a local gas station. There were 35 members present and refreshments served by Miss Fannie Angie, Mr. and Mrs. John Auchmoody, Mrs. Alvina Myers, Pomona Grange will hold its next meeting June 5 in the Grange hall here.

The Junior class of the high school held its annual Prom in honor of the seniors Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m. The grand march and the selection of Maryann Gottlieb as Queen of the Prom were features of the evening's entertainment. General chairman was Ann Friedman, Barbara Schriber, James Canino, Theresa Gallo, John Rechen, Marilyn Mertes, Art Simpson's orchestra provided the music.

BOCK BEER BACK BRIGADE—When they set out to test bock beer in Munich, Germany, they don't taste it, smell it or check the color. They just sit in it. To pass inspection, the beer must be strong enough to make the bench stick to the sitters when they rise. In this case the tester in the center got a pair of torn trousers, so the beer must be pretty good.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Prostitution Charge

New York, May 23 (P)—Thomas Masterson, 19, of the Bronx, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted compulsory prostitution yesterday as his defense in a compulsory prostitution case was about to start in Bronx County Court.

He faces a minimum of five years and a maximum of 20 in state prison.

Judge Eugene G. Schulz, in an unusual move, did not set a date for sentencing, announcing that he would put the date on the court calendar later.

Masterson had been charged with receiving money from two teen-age girls and arranging dates for them. The girls, Claire Liebman, 17, of the Bronx, and Maxine Davis, 16, of Bellerose, Queens, testified against Masterson. They said they gave him varying amounts of money after he allegedly threatened to drown them.

Schulz allowed the pleading to the lesser count on the motion of Masterson's attorney, Patrick J. Sullivan.

May File New Charges

Soul, May 23 (P)—The air force said today additional charges may be filed "in two or three days" against a young steelworker arrested on murder charges and flown to Korea for trial almost six months after he was honorably discharged. An air force official said the judge advocate section is studying additional evidence against Robert W. Toth, 21, of Pittsburgh, and new charges are pending. No details were revealed. Young Toth is accused now of "premeditated murder and conspiracy to commit premeditated murder" in connection with the death of Kil Dong Soon, a South Korean, last fall.

Parts Are Checked

Washington, May 23 (P)—A Senate Commerce Subcommittee investigating waterfront racketeering has begun looking into conditions at Gulf and west coast ports, Chief Counsel Downey Rice said today. He said "survey teams" have been sent to both areas and "we should have something from them fairly soon." The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.), recently concluded a series of public hearings on the racket-ridden New York-New Jersey waterfront.

Settlement Terms For Long Island Railroad Listed

New York, May 23 (P)—The city administration has agreed to accept $8,806,000 from the bankrupt Long Island Railroad in settlement of a bill for an estimated 14 millions in back taxes and penalties.

Approval for the settlement will be sought in federal court in Brooklyn. There is a possibility that the move will be opposed by the Long Island Transit Authority, a public agency set up by the state legislature.

The settlement was announced late yesterday by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri. He said the settlement removed one of the city's major objections to a plan by the Pennsylvania Railroad for reorganization of the LIRR under private operation.

However, Impellitteri announced that Corporation Counsel Denis M. Hurley has drawn up for the city still another plan for reorganization of the LIRR.

The city plan, like the Pennsylvania's, calls for private operation of the line. A third plan has been proposed by the Transit Authority whose function is to put the line back on its feet and, if possible, turn it back to private operation.

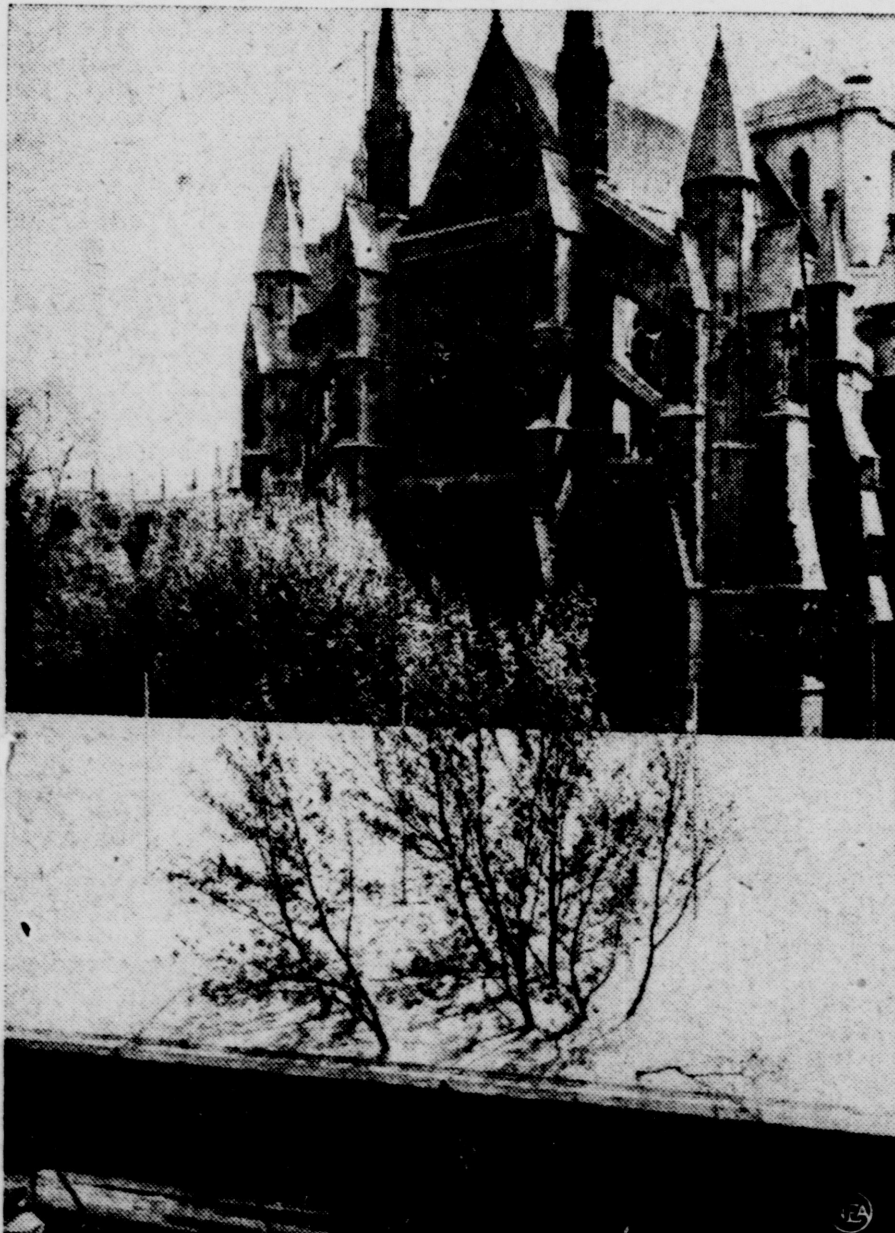

Both the Pennsylvania and Authority plans are now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, with hearings to resume in Washington on June 15. The city, until now, has opposed both. The Pennsylvania is the chief creditor of the LIRR.

Plans Quiet Work Day

Washington, May 23 (P)—President Eisenhower drove to the newly named "Camp David" in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains today with plans for a day of quiet work. This is the retreat above Washington used by Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman under the name of "Shangri La." The White House disclosed yesterday the President had named it Camp David, choosing a name that was his father's, his own and his grandson's.

Delicious Fruit Topping

Here's a delicious fruit topping for vanilla ice cream. Peel a couple of oranges so no white membrane remains; slice and dice fine. Cut half a small cantaloupe into small cubes. Slice some marshmallows fine. Mix the orange, cantaloupe and cherries and spoon over the ice cream.

TREAT TREES TENDERLY—Workmen erecting a canopy over coronation stands near Westminster Abbey (background) in London were too tender-hearted to trim off branches of trees around which stands were built. So they went to the trouble of "tailoring" the canopy to fit around them.

Knights Complete Banquet Plans

Joseph F. Saccoman, chairman of the banquet committee has announced that the banquet honoring the former faithful navigators of the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus, 275, will be held immediately following the regular meeting of the assembly Monday, May 25, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. He stated that the committee has made every effort to make this event a most successful affair and urged every Sir Knight to obtain their tickets immediately.

Former faithful navigators who will be honored are Sir Knights Joseph F. Sullivan, Patrick T. Murphy, William B. Byrne, John P. Erne, Bernard A. Feeney, William J. Dwyer, Florian P. Wingert, Walter L. Foster, Andrew T. Giday, William F. Lech, Frank A. Reis, William A. Kelly, Joseph J. Murphy, Joseph A. McTague, and Jess Lanzafame. Former faithful navigators who have been called to their reward and will be remembered in prayer, are James J. O'Connor, Frank L. Meagher, William Dugan, William J. O'Reilly, Edward F. Moran and Peter J. Halloran.

Celebrates 53rd Year

Kingston Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus was organized in 1900, and is celebrating its 53rd year. During the 53 years, 22 faithful navigators have held office and at present the faithful navigator is Kenneth T. Clark. The Charity Ball which was first held in 1918, has been a principal social activity of the Assembly and the distribution of its proceeds to non-sectarian charity has been one of the main activities of the members. This money has been used for the alleviation of distress of all kinds, for the advancement of education, for providing Christmas cheer for children and in various other ways helping to make our world a better place in which to live.

Sir Knight and P.G.K. Raymond J. Mino will be master of ceremonies at the banquet and Father Farrelly, of St. Mary's Church, will be the principal speaker. Serving as honorary chairmen for the dinner are Faithful Navigator Kenneth T. Clark and Faithful Captain Bernard F. O'Neil. The ticket committee consists of Charles Plunket, Herbert J. Swarthout, Charles H. Trice, John H. Whitaker, James Gilpatrick, Frank Stenson. Serving on the dinner committee are Thomas Cloonan, John Hoffman, Edward Cloonan, Frank Tiano, William J. Weishaupt and Frank Domanico and on the speaker's committee Howard Fox, Thomas D. Connelly, W. Kenneth J. Geary and James V. Geary. Faithful Navigator Kenneth Clark urged every Sir Knight to be present at the meeting at 7:30 p. m. and to make a special effort to attend to honor our former faithful navigators, who have done so much for the assembly in the past.

Local interests can continue to run the towers through agreement with the federal government, or supply funds for federal operation, a CAA spokesman said.

Six Airport Towers Are Ordered Closed

New York, May 23 (P)—Naming budget cuts as the reason, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has ordered the closing of six airport control towers, effective June 30, at the following fields:

Westfield, Mass.; Brainard Field, Hartford Conn.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Niagara Falls; Westchester county, and Harbor Field, Baltimore, Md.

Ora W. Young, regional director of the CAA's 15-state region one, also said yesterday that plans for a new Bedford, Mass., tower, scheduled to begin operation in the next fiscal year, have been abandoned.

He said airports were "relatively inactive" and cost $45,000 a year each to run on a 24-hour basis.

Local interests can continue to run the towers through agreement with the federal government, or supply funds for federal operation, a CAA spokesman said.

Skids Off Pavement Trying to Avoid Car

An automobile driven by William Joseph Glennon, 18, of 62 Fair street skidded and spun off the pavement when he attempted to stop to avoid an automobile pulling away from a gasoline station on Route 32 a mile and a quarter north of New Paltz about 9:45 p. m. Friday, state police reported.

Troopers of the Highland station issued a summons returnable before Justice of the Peace Richard Lent of New Paltz today, charging Glennon with driving at a "dangerous speed." No personal injuries were reported.

No Extra Day

Washington, May 23 (P)—Government employees will work the usual five days next week—Memorial Day, a holiday, comes on Saturday. Under such circumstances in the past, an extra holiday was often granted, but officials said this could hardly be done in view of the administration's economy drive. Asked about July 4, which also falls on a Saturday, they said the same rule would apply.

Will Make Summit Try

New Delhi, India, May 23 (P)—The British Mt. Everest expedition reportedly will try tomorrow to reach the unconquered summit of the world's highest mountain. Reports from the Nepalese capital of Katmandu said expedition leader Col. John Hunt will send two teams of climbers on separate routes toward the 29,000-foot top, weather permitting.

One Way to Save Money

Four Persons Injured In Head-On Collision

New York, May 23 (P)—Four persons were injured when the two automobiles in which they were riding early today were in a head-on collision at Madison avenue, just south of 42nd street, police reported.

Donald Bosted, 35, of Elmont, operator of one of the cars, and his wife, Herta, 33, suffered head injuries, police said.

Joseph W. Campbell, 44, of Milford, N. J., who was driving the other car northbound on Madison avenue, suffered cuts and bruises, and his passenger, Randolph Auer, 62, of Manhattan, multiple cuts of the face and a fracture of the jaw when his head crashed against the windshield, police said.

The injured were taken to Bellevue Hospital. Campbell went home after being attended, the others remained at the hospital, police said.

Twins Under Knife

Boston, May 23 (P)—A 41-year-old Holyoke Siamese twin undergoes major abdominal surgery at New England Deaconess Hospital today—with her sister also anesthetized—in an operation that may make medical history. Margaret and Mary Gibb, believed the country's oldest Siamese twins, will be anesthetized but only Margaret will undergo the surgery by Dr. Frank H. Lahey, founder of the Lahey Clinic.

Treated for Injuries

Rita Lombardo, 19, of Liberty street, Newburgh, was treated at St. Luke's Hospital for lacerations after the automobile she was driving went through a guard rail along Route 9W one mile south of Marlborough and ran into a field about 11:15 p. m., Friday, state police reported.

HOW $10 MAY SAVE YOU $10,000

Any day you may wake up with a damage suit on your hands. If a postman, milkman or tradesman hurts himself on your premises — if part-time servants hurt themselves in your employ — if your child or dog hurts somebody — if you hit somebody with a golf ball — MAYBE YOU'VE GOT A LAW SUIT ON YOUR HANDS.

But there's a fine new "bargain" policy which covers just about every damage to people and property for which you're legally liable.

For $10 a year it will protect you up to $10,000 and also insure medical payments up to $250 for non-family injuries even if you're not legally liable. Ask us.

Highland

Highland, May 23 — George Campbell, of the Social Security office, Kingston, was the guest speaker at the dinner meeting of the Lions Club Monday night. He talked on Social Security to the 33 members and guests present. The nominating committee reported on the officers for 1953-54 as David Murphy, president; first vice-president, John Andola; second vice-president, Frank Kedenburg; third vice-president, Anthony DeMare; secretary, Philip Messina; treasurer, Philip Bravata; lion tamer, Vincent Jesionek; directors, Albert Roberts, William Gruner. The installation dinner will be June 6 at DiPrima's Hotel. The dinner committee includes Frank Mandy, John Mack, Albert Roberts, Peter Burdush. The paper drive for the Boy Scouts will be held Saturday at 1:30 p. m. from the school with Philip Bravata and Danny Canora in charge. Other guests were D. A. Coloni, Newburgh and Philip LaSusa, Highland.

Mrs. Albert Martin, Grand street, has been entertaining her niece from Chicago. The Officer's Club of the Eastern Star met in the Masonic Temple Tuesday night with Mrs. Clarence Rathgeb, Mrs. Bertram Cottine, Mrs. Victor DeMare and Mrs. Ralph Dirk as hostesses. The Past Noble Grands Club of Vineyard Rebekah Lodge will meet Monday night with Mrs. Elton Tompkins.

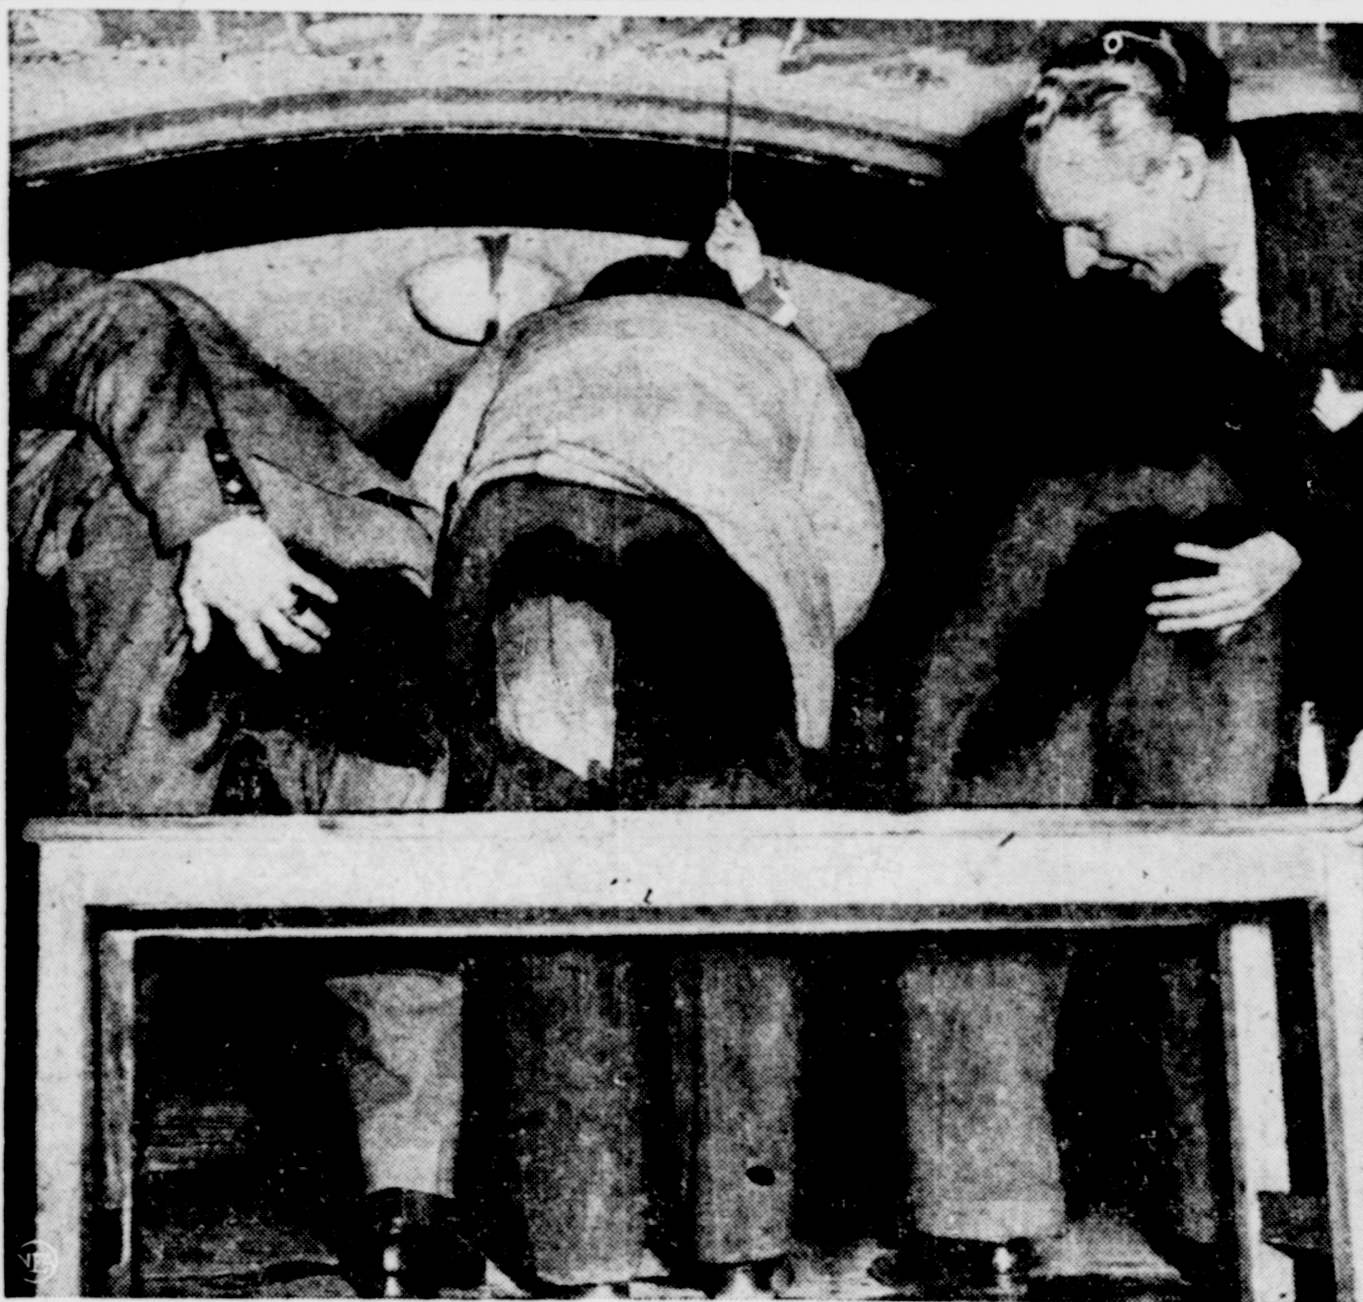

Cathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Erichsen underwent a tonsillectomy Monday at Kingston Hospital. Mrs. Victor Salvatore entertained the Thursday foursome this week. Miss Janet Smith returned to Washington Sunday after a few days spent with her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. A. Jerome Pratt.

The Friday Bridge Club was entertained this week by Mrs. C. Imbrie Richards. Ulster county Grange officers held an evening meeting in the Highland Grange hall Thursday, May 13.

Pursuant to the recommendations of the Citizen's Advisory Committee and the Division of School Buildings and Grounds of the State Education Department, the Board of Education of the Central school, at its meeting Tuesday evening, May 19, voted to recommend the purchase of the DiStasi site for an elementary building. This proposition will be presented to the qualified voters of the district at an early date.

The meeting of Highland Grange Tuesday night opened with the song of Peace. The members voted to enter a float in the Memorial Day parade with Mrs. Howard Schriber, Mrs. Mabel Kisor, and Mrs. Bertha Hasbrouck the committee. Howard Mackey gave a talk on Safety on the Highway. The paper written by Betty Ronk on the subject of Safety had been sent to the state lecturer and the paper of Dorothy Hoffman of the Juvenile Grange had been accepted. Mrs. Charles Bell distributed literature on Safety and movies were shown with William Thompson running the machine. They were procured through a local gas station. There were 35 members present and refreshments served by Miss Fannie Angie, Mr. and Mrs. John Auchmoody, Mrs. Alvina Myers, Pomona Grange will hold its next meeting June 5 in the Grange hall here.

The Junior class of the high school held its annual Prom in honor of the seniors Saturday from 9 to 12 p. m. The grand march and the selection of Maryann Gottlieb as Queen of the Prom were features of the evening's entertainment. General chairmen were Ann Friedman, Barbara Schriber, James Canino, Theresa Gallo, John Rechen, Marilyn Mertes, Art Simpson's orchestra provided the music.

BOCK BEER BACK BRIGADE—When they set out to test bock beer in Munich, Germany, they don't taste it, smell it or check the color. They just sit in it. To pass inspection, the beer must be strong enough to make the bench stick to the sitters when they rise. In this case the tester in the center got a pair of torn trousers, so the beer must be pretty good.

Youth Pleads Guilty To Prostitution Charge

New York, May 23 (AP)—Thomas Masterson, 19, of the Bronx, pleaded guilty to a charge of attempted compulsory prostitution yesterday as his defense in a compulsory prostitution case was about to start in Bronx County Court.

He faces a minimum of five years and a maximum of 20 in state prison.

Judge Eugene G. Schulz, in an unusual move, did not set a date for sentencing, announcing that he would put the date on the court calendar later.

Masterson had been charged with receiving money from two teen-age girls and arranging dates for them. The girls, Claire Liebman, 17, of the Bronx, and Maxine Davis, 16, of Bellerose, Queens, testified against Masterson. They said they gave him varying amounts of money after he allegedly threatened to drown them.

Schulz allowed the pleading to the lesser count on the motion of Masterson's attorney, Patrick J. Sullivan.

May File New Charges

Seoul, May 23 (AP)—The air force said today additional charges may be filed "in two or three days" against a young steelworker arrested on murder charges, and flown to Korea for trial almost six months after he was honorably discharged. An air force official said the judge advocate section is studying additional evidence against Robert W. Toth, 21, of Pittsburgh, and new charges are pending. No details were revealed. Young Toth is accused now of "premeditated murder and conspiracy to commit premeditated murder" in connection with the death of Kil Dong Soon, a South Korean, last fall.

Parts Are Checked

Washington, May 23 (AP)—A Senate Commerce Subcommittee investigating waterfront racketeering has begun looking into conditions at Gulf and west coast ports, Chief Counsel Downey Rice said today. He said "survey teams" have been sent to both areas and "we should have something from them fairly soon." The subcommittee, headed by Sen. Tobey (R-N.H.), recently concluded a series of public hearings on the racket-ridden New York-New Jersey waterfront.

TREAT TREES TENDERLY—Workmen erecting a canopy over coronation stands near Westminster Abbey (background) in London were too tender-hearted to trim off branches of trees around which stands were built. So they went to the trouble of "tailoring" the canopy to fit around them.

Settlement Terms For Long Island Railroad Listed

New York, May 23 (AP)—The city administration has agreed to accept $8,806,000 from the bankrupt Long Island Railroad in settlement of a bill for an estimated 14 millions in back taxes and penalties.

Approval for the settlement will be sought in federal court in Brooklyn. There is a possibility that the move will be opposed by the Long Island Transit Authority, a public agency set up by the state legislature.

The settlement was announced late yesterday by Mayor Vincent R. Impellitteri. He said the settlement removed one of the city's major objections to a plan by the Pennsylvania Railroad for reorganization of the LIRR under private operation.

However, Impellitteri announced that Corporation Counsel Denis M. Hurley has drawn up for the city still another plan for reorganization of the LIRR.

The city plan, like the Pennsylvania's, calls for private operation of the line. A third plan has been proposed by the Transit Authority whose function is to put the line back on its feet and, if possible, turn it back to private operation. Both the Pennsylvania and Authority plans are now before the Interstate Commerce Commission, with hearings to resume in Washington on June 15. The city, until now, has opposed both. The Pennsylvania is the chief creditor of the LIRR.

Plans Quiet Work Day

Washington, May 23 (AP)—President Eisenhower drove to the newly named "Camp David" in Maryland's Catoctin Mountains today with plans for a day of quiet work. This is the retreat above Washington used by Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt and Truman under the name of "Shangri La." The White House disclosed yesterday the President had named it Camp David, choosing a name that was his father's, his own and his grandson's.

Delicious Fruit Topping

Here's a delicious fruit topping for vanilla ice cream. Peel a couple of oranges so no white membrane remains; slice and dice fine. Cut half a small cantaloupe into small cubes. Slice some marshmallows. Mix the orange, cantaloupe and cherries and spoon over the ice cream.

Six Airport Towers Are Ordered Closed

New York, May 23 (AP)—Naming budget cuts as the reason, the Civil Aeronautics Administration has ordered the closing of six airport control towers, effective June 30, at the following fields:

Westfield, Mass.; Brainard Field, Hartford Conn.; Bridgeport, Conn.; Niagara Falls; Westchester county, and Harbor Field, Baltimore, Md.

Ora W. Young, regional director of the CAA's 15-state region one, also said yesterday that plans for a new Bedford, Mass., tower, scheduled to begin operation in the next fiscal year, have been abandoned.

He said airports were "relatively inactive" and cost $45,000 a year each to run on a 24-hour basis.

Local interests can continue to run the towers through agreement with the federal government, or supply funds for federal operation, a CAA spokesman said.

Skids Off Pavement Trying to Avoid Car

An automobile driven by William Joseph Glennon, 18, of 62 Fair street skidded and spun off the pavement when he attempted to stop to avoid an automobile pulling away from a gasoline station on Route 32 a mile and a quarter north of New Paltz about 9:45 p. m. Friday, state police reported.

Troopers of the Highland station issued a summons returnable before Justice of the Peace Richard Lent of New Paltz today, charging Glennon with driving at a "dangerous speed." No personal injuries were reported.

No Extra Day

Washington, May 23 (AP)—Government employees will work the usual five days next week—Memorial Day, a holiday, comes on Saturday. Under such circumstances in the past, an extra holiday was often granted, but officials said this could hardly be done in view of the administration's economy drive. Asked about July 4, which also falls on a Saturday, they said the same rule would apply.

Will Make Summit Try

New Delhi, India, May 23 (AP)—The British Mt. Everest expedition reportedly will try tomorrow to reach the unconquered summit of the world's highest mountain. Reports from the Nepalese capital of Katmandu said expedition leader Col. John Hunt will send two teams of climbers on separate routes toward the 29,000-foot top, weather permitting.

Knights Complete Banquet Plans

Joseph F. Saccoman, chairman of the banquet committee has announced that the banquet honoring the former faithful navigators of the Fourth Degree Assembly, Knights of Columbus, 275, will be held immediately following the regular meeting of the assembly Monday, May 25, which will begin at 7:30 p. m. He stated that the committee has made every effort to make this event a most successful affair and urged every Sir Knight to obtain their tickets immediately.

Former faithful navigators who will be honored are Sir Knights Joseph F. Sullivan, Patrick T. Murphy, William E. Byrne, John P. Enne, Bernard A. Feeney, William J. Dwyer, Florian P. Wingert, Walter L. Foster, Andrew T. Gilday, William F. Leehive, Frank A. Reis, William A. Kelly, Joseph J. Murphy, Joseph A. McTague, and Jess Lanzafame. Former faithful navigators who have been called to their reward and will be remembered in prayer, are James J. O'Connor, Frank L. Meagher, William Dugan, William J. O'Reilly, Edward F. Moran and Peter J. Halloran.

Celebrates 53rd Year

Kingston Assembly, Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus was organized in 1900, and is celebrating its 53rd year. During the 53 years, 22 faithful navigators have held office and at present the faithful navigator is Kenneth T. Clark. The Charity Ball which was first held in 1918, has been a principal social activity in the assembly and the distribution of its proceeds to non-sectarian charity has been one of the main activities of the members. This money has been used for the alleviation of distress of all kinds, for the advancement of education, for providing Christmas cheer for children and in various other ways helping to make our world a better place in which to live.

Sir Knight and P.G.K. Raymond J. Mino will be master of ceremonies at the banquet and Father Farrelly, of St. Mary's Church, will be the principal speaker. Serving as honorary chairmen for the dinner are Faithful Navigator Kenneth T. Clark and Faithful Captain Bernard F. O'Neill. The ticket committee consists of Charles Plunket, Herbert J. Swarthout, Charles H. Trice, John H. Whitaker, James J. Gilpatrick, Frank Stenson. Serving on the dinner committee are Thomas Cloonan, John Hoffman, Edward Cloonan, Frank Tiano, William J. Weishaupt and Frank Domanico and on the speaker's committee Howard Fox, Thomas D. Connelly, V. Kenneth J. Geary and James V. Geary. Faithful Navigator Kenneth Clark urged every Sir Knight to be present at the meeting at 7:30 p. m. and to make a special effort to attend to honor our former faithful navigators, who have done so much for the assembly in the past.

St. James-Broadway Collision Reported

Russell Howard of 54 Brewster street, driving a 1949 sedan, reported to police that he had stopped for a traffic signal at Broadway and St. James street at 11:30 p. m. yesterday when he was struck in the rear by a 1952 sedan operated by Joseph Bernard Murray, Jr., of 571 First street. Troy. Both cars were headed south on Broadway, he said. Howard told police that Marlene Hamilton, 17, of Sleightsburg, a passenger in his car, might have received a possible neck injury.

President Gets Books

Washington, May 23 (AP)—A little girl gave President Eisenhower three books for his grandchildren yesterday. The President, in turn, gave her a picture of himself autographed with "affectionate regards." The White House visitor was 11-year-old Camille Quarrier, of Bayside, N. Y., who accompanied her foster father, Dr. Howard Driggs, president of the American Pioneer Trails Association, in a call on the Chief Executive. The association has been active in marking the old historic routes such as the Oregon Trail and the Santa Fe Trail.

Jury Chosen Friday

A jury was chosen in Supreme Court in session here Friday afternoon for the trial of negligence actions brought as a result of an accident on Route 17 at Sloatsburg. The actions are designated on the court calendar as No. 124, Joseph Dirago against Julio Paganucci and another, and No. 125, Joseph Dirago, etc., against Julio Paganucci and another. Dirago is represented by Michael Nardone, and Paganucci by Rosen and Rosen with N. LeVan Haver of counsel. The case will continue 10 a. m. Monday.
